

Post & Go Mail by Rail to go on sale at The Postal Museum

LONDON, 8 December 2016 – The Postal Museum is pleased to announce that from Wednesday 15 February 2017 it will be selling the Royal Mail Heritage: Mail by Rail Post & Go set with The Postal Museum overprint. The set of 6 stamps will be available on 1st class only.

The stamps can be purchased from the A001 Post & Go machine located at Freeling House, The Postal Museum's present offices. They will be available from 10.00-17.00 on the first day of issue and from 09.00-17.00 Monday to Friday after that. Please note that the Search Room is currently closed and only the foyer will be accessible.

The current Hibernating Animals Post & Go set on 1st and 2nd class stamps will finish on Friday 30 December 2016.

In addition to Mail by Rail, The Postal Museum will continue to offer the Union Flag, Mail Coach and 1st and 2nd class Machin stamps. Mail by Rail presentation packs, first day covers and a postcard set will be available to pre-order online from 1 February.

Sign up to The Postal Museum's Post & Go Bulletin for alerts – shop.postalmuseum.org/pages/bulletin

***

1st Class
up to 100g

The Postal
Museum

B2GB16 B003-0184-001

Travelling Post Office: bag exchange

1st Class
up to 100g

The Postal
Museum

B2GB16 B003-0184-001

Post Office Underground Railway

1st Class
up to 100g

The Postal
Museum

B2GB16 B003-0184-001

NIGHT MAIL

1st Class
up to 100g

The Postal
Museum

B2GB16 B003-0184-001

Travelling Post Office: loading

1st Class
up to 100g

The Postal
Museum

B2GB16 B003-0184-001

Travelling Post Office: sorting

1st Class
up to 100g

The Postal
Museum

B2GB16 B003-0184-001

Travelling Post Office: on the move

MEDIA CONTACT

Harry Huskisson
Head of Communications & Marketing
The Postal Museum
harry.huskisson@postalmuseum.org
0207 239 2613

NOTES TO EDITORS

- The Postal Museum is London's newest heritage attraction. Opening in Clerkenwell, central London in spring 2017, it reveals the surprising and curious history of Britain's earliest social network; the post. Through interactive exhibition galleries, visitors will be taken on a journey through five centuries of innovation and ingenuity that changed the way we communicate forever, and paved the way for the instant, digital communications of today. Across the road, Mail Rail at The Postal Museum will offer an immersive subterranean ride through the century old tunnels of the hidden Post Office Underground Railway. Revealed for the first time since it shut its doors, it played a vital, hidden role in keeping us all in touch, transporting millions of letters and parcels across a congested capital. Find out more about this ambitious plan by visiting The Postal Museum's website www.postalmuseum.org.