

Introducing the strikingly innovative Interphone F5

Australian-based motoring technology company Strike is proud to announce the arrival of one of the world's most advanced and innovative motorcycle products, the Interphone F5.

The Interphone F5 is designed for motorcyclists who like to travel in pairs or groups, and it provides conference-type communication for six or more users up to a range of 2400m.

Complementing the Interphone's impressive range is its highly energy efficient Bluetooth 3.0 technology, which allows for an efficient three-hour charge time with 700 hours of standby time and 11 hours of talk time, making it the must-have motorcycle product of 2012.

The highly innovative Interphone F5 also boasts AGC (Automatic Gain Control), which adjusts the volume of the speakers depending on the level of ambient noise. It is also equipped with multimedia capabilities including, FM radio with RDS, Bluetooth, music streaming, GPS instructions and TTS (Text To Speech).

According to Chris Ryan, CEO of Strike, the company sought to distribute the product in Australia due to its high calibre of technology and range of features. "I've spent over 10 years in the industry looking at motorcycle and automotive technology and the Interphone F5 is by far one of the most impressive devices I have seen. It's simple and intuitive. It works in all weather conditions (it's IP67 rated) and the battery life and features are truly remarkable," Mr Ryan said.

Featuring updatable software, the Interphone F5 is available in single and paired versions, and is easily installed on any type of helmet and comes with everything you need to get riding, quickly.

Strike stocks the entire Interphone range including F2, F3, F4 and F5.
