STRIKE IT LUCKY

Strike, Australia's leading provider of bluetooth car technologies, has released a new generation of advanced phone cradles, the Strike Alpha. Australian-designed, engineered and manufactured, the Strike Alpha is the only car cradle with an embedded Near Field Communication (NFC) chip, which enables phone users to automatically control phone functions when the device is placed in the Alpha Cradle. The technology means the user can start music, navigation and Strike's embedded GPS tracking while the phone is safely docked in its cradle, minimising driver distraction. Strike has also released a new hands-free car kit, the Strike Boss, which can support two phones at the same time and is fitted with echo-cancellation and noise suppression technology to guarantee high audio quality. The Road Ahead and Strike are giving 10 lucky readers the chance to win a Strike prize pack, including a phone specific Alpha Cradle (valued at $149 RRP) and a Strike Boss portable car kit (valued at $129 RRP). Total prize value is $278 each.
