FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Strike develops innovative phone holders for Samsung Galaxy S9 and S9 Plus

Brisbane, Feb. 27, 2018 – After the world-renowned success of the Galaxy S8, S8+ and Galaxy Note 8 phone holders, Strike Group is proud to announce its latest range of phone holders for Samsung’s latest flagships: the Samsung Galaxy S9 and S9 Plus.

The Samsung Galaxy S9 and S9+ are unquestionably beautiful. They feature a revolutionary camera technology and a modern design that showcase an 'Infinity Display'- a near bezel-less, full-frontal glass, an edge-to-edge screen. It might be hard to keep your hands from them even whilst driving.

The Strike Alpha Car Cradles for Samsung Galaxy S9 and S9+ are innovatively developed with the consumer in mind: to protect, charge, and hold the user’s device whilst on the road.

Strike’s latest innovation means that drivers can worry less about battery drain while seamlessly integrating their Samsung Galaxy S9 smartphone with their vehicle’s Bluetooth and entertainment systems.

The Galaxy S9 and S9+ Car Cradles are designed with a built-in fast charger to extend the user’s phone battery whilst they drive. They also come with an internal passive antenna to be connected via FME to an external antenna to boost the mobile signal. These phone holders are crash-tested to withstand up to 25 g.

Furthermore, the Strike Alpha Car Cradles are also designed to support the wireless charging capability of Samsung S9 and S9+ for efficient charging whilst on the road.

‘Phones are increasingly becoming part of our lives with their adaptability and accessibility,’ says Chris Ryan, CEO of Strike Group, ‘Our cost-effective solution to further maximise the utility of devices like the Samsung Galaxy S9 and S9+ allows users to stay updated at all times.’

Strike is currently manufacturing the Strike Alpha Cradle for Samsung Galaxy S9 and S9+. Click on this link to view the S9 cradle variants and the S9 Plus car mounts here. Stocks are available for pre-order now.
