FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

December 2018 – Strike Launches Zebra TC52 and TC57 Touch Computer Holders

Brisbane, December 12, 2018 – As a leader in hands-free technology for handsets and mobile devices, Strike Group developed a powerful holder for the new Zebra TC52 and TC57 Touch Computers.

The Zebra TC52 and TC57 have new platforms and capabilities added for an elevated enterprise quality touch computing experience. These Zebra handsets have the simplicity of Android but are packed with business features to maximize productivity.

The enterprise and compact design of the Zebra TC52 and TC57 is perfect for a portable working environment that can help with various roles in different industries such as retail and hospitality, manufacturing, transportation and logistics.

Strike Alpha Zebra TC52 and TC57 holders complement the efficiency of the newest Zebra handhelds. These Zebra TC52 and TC57 cradles were developed with the enterprise user in mind: to protect, charge, and hold the user's device when they are driving or during mission-critical activities. Each Alpha Car Cradle is designed to withstand up to 25g in the event of an accident. Additionally, each cradle comes with an internal passive antenna that can boost the Zebra TC52/TC57's phone signal once connected to an external antenna.

To boost durability and functionality, TC52/TC57 vehicle mounts can also be used with Rubber Boot case. Therefore, Strike's TC52/TC57 enterprise-grade car mounts can help in the toughest and the most extreme of times.

"Strike continues to innovate and develop technology that can help businesses grow. Enterprise handhelds such as the Zebra TC52 and TC57 paired with the Strike Alpha cradle can help improve productivity and give users an enhanced working experience," says Chris Ryan, CEO of Strike Group. "Our Strike Alpha Zebra TC52 and TC57 handset holders are available for shipping worldwide."
