FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Strike Releases Mount for the newest Motorola Lex L11

Brisbane, November 22, 2018 – Strike Group, the world-leading developer and manufacturer of hands-free technology for handset and mobile devices engineered a vehicle mount for the latest Motorola Lex L11.

Motorola released one of the toughest handheld solutions in the market for enterprise, public safety, and public service demands. Each feature of the Motorola Lex L11 has been carefully studied from the rugged design to the premium audio. It suppresses any unwanted noise and enhances audio performance even whilst it is mounted.

Motorola Lex L11 has a proven tough build with MIL-STD-810G for drop and shock. Aside from its ability to withstand tough working conditions, the Lex L11 boasts of a high-security end to end platform. It makes sure that third party devices cannot gain access to mission-critical communications on the Motorola Lex L11.

To maximize and increase the efficiency of the Motorola Lex L11, Strike Alpha Motorola Lex L11 vehicle mount was developed. This Motorola cradle is created with the enterprise user in mind: to protect, charge, and hold the user's device when they are driving or during mission-critical activities. The cradle has been engineered to withstand up to 25g in the event of an accident. The Strike Alpha Lex L11 handheld mount also has an option to boost mobile signal by connecting to an external antenna.

Strike specifically developed a 3 amp 12/24v for pro-installation version and 2.4 amp for the DIY version of Motorola Lex L11 holder and charger to ensure that the mission-critical applications never run out of power. The Lex L11 vehicle dock also comes with lockable features to provide premium device security. Users can mount and use the device in public without worrying about theft.

“Strike always strives to be the first to deliver innovative phone holders for the latest handhelds such as the Motorola Lex 11 to let enterprise users maximize its features,” says Chris Ryan, CEO of Strike Group. “Our Motorola Lex L11 cradle variants are ready to ship anywhere in the world.”
