FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

August 2020 – Strike Develops Tablet Holders for Samsung Galaxy Tab S7 and S7+

Brisbane, August 07, 2020 – Strike Group, the leading developer of innovative car technologies, is proud to present a new range of car tablet cradles for Samsung’s latest tablets: the Samsung Galaxy Tab S7 and Galaxy Tab S7+.

Samsung Galaxy Tab S7 and S7+ are packed with a bigger screen for business and entertainment use. The Samsung Galaxy Tab S7 series run on a Snapdragon 865 Plus chip optimized for more powerful productivity.

The Samsung Galaxy Tab S7 and S7+ get you through a whole day of work, videos, presentations, and other applications with the largest battery capacity for a Samsung tablet of 10,090mAh.

“The way we use our devices has evolved. At Strike, we strive to provide innovative hands-free technology to expand usefulness and convenience for users in any work and vehicle setup,” says Chris Ryan, CEO of Strike Group.

Strike Alpha Samsung Galaxy Tab S7 and S7+ tablet mounts minimize road distractions and give the best viewing position in landscape or portrait mode. These holders are equipped with fast charging capabilities to ensure that your device never runs out of battery while on the go. Strike Alpha Samsung Tab S7 and Tab S7+ tablet cradles are also designed with an internal passive antenna for effective signal boosting.

The Strike Alpha Samsung Galaxy Tab S7 series car tablet cradles are available in PRO, DIY, and Landscape versions. Lockable cradles are also available for added protection.
