

Documentary Credit

WORLD

In This Issue...

■ 3 UPDATES: ICC Banking Commission Issues Guidance Documents; First Draft of ISDGP Released for Comment; ADCB Advances Blockchain LC Use Beyond First Trade Deal; US Treasury Testing Blockchain-Based LC for Grant Use; Broadband Providers Urge Easing of LC Requirements; Supervisory Scrutiny for 25 Banks in Germany; Makhmudova Joins DCWEd Advisory Board; Rationale for FDIC Statement Rescission Given; Technology Update; International Updates; Byrnes Visits Kozolchyk National Law Center

■ 8 READER REACTION: Auto-Extension Drawing Period

■ 9 LITIGATION DIGEST:

- CLA Engineering Ltd v. DBS Bank (Hong Kong) Ltd.
- Tetronics (International) Ltd. v. HSBC Bank Plc

■ 24 ARTICLES:

■ "Standby Letters of Credit with 'Pay and Walk' Clauses: How They Work and What to Watch for" by Paula GREAVES

■ "LCs Offer Exporters Protection from Order Cancellation" by Xavier FORNT

■ 28 LC STATISTICS: US Banks (3Q19)

■ 39 REPORT:

■ Executive Summary of the 2019 ABA/ABA Financial Crimes Enforcement Conference

■ 45 SCAM SURVEY

16 FEATURE

■ BELT AND ROAD INITIATIVE

Launched in 2013 and intended as a massive, multi-decade endeavor, China's Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) is impacting and influencing infrastructure projects around the world on a grand scale. Projected BRI investment figures are staggering, and complex bilateral agreements between China and partnering countries abound. In studying the background of the BRI and evaluating its viable implications, experienced international banker Dennis Noah contends that all professionals specializing in trade need to broaden their vision and garner knowledge of the BRI now and in the years to come. In his writing, Noah reviews the BRI's origins and considers the growth levels and goals of China. He then examines BRI perceptions and partnerships before exploring future prospects and offers an array of questions to reflect on as the BRI evolves.