

SERESIN ESTATE NOA PINOT NOIR 2012

"Pale ruby-purple in color, the 2012 Noa Pinot Noir has notes of red currants, raspberry leaves and pomegranate with hints of orange peel, Provence herbs and earth. Light-bodied with a rasping line of acidity and modest chew of tannins, it fills the mouth with sour cherry flavors and finishes long with herbal accents."

"Mid to light ruby. More savoury than Leah. More peppery initially with the red fruit hidden underneath. More spicy on the palate too but still that lovely red-fruit freshness. Tighter than Leah, more savoury but still gentle and elegant. The tannins pulling out the finish and calling out for food. Mouth-watering aftertaste."

"From Pinot planted on clay, gravel and silt soils by the winery, this offers dark plum fruit and savoury notes. While soft and approachable on entry, this is gaining depth as it develops. There's mouthcoating tannin that are resolved and powdery and provide a welcome pinch on the cheeks. Long plummy finish. Drink now to 2023."
