Ethical Standards

Gold Fever Hair is dedicated to the highest ethical standards in procuring and processing human hair. We source hair exclusively through voluntary donations from devotees, respecting their religious beliefs and ensuring transparency throughout the process. We strictly reject forced labour, child labour, and any human rights violations. Our commitment extends to quality control measures and social responsibility initiatives. With our certificate, you can trust that the hair obtained by Gold Fever meets ethical standards and is traceable.

Traceability

Gold Fever Hair prioritises traceability in the procurement and processing of human hair. We ensure a transparent and accountable supply chain by sourcing our hair directly from reputable temples and/or authorised suppliers with established channels for traceability.

Donation Process

The hair procured by Gold Fever Hair is voluntarily donated by individuals as an act of faith and devotion to their religion and deities. Donors freely offer their hair at reputable temples, fully aware that it will be used for commercial purposes. The donation process is conducted with respect and adherence to cultural and religious significance. This voluntary and faith-driven practice enables Gold Fever to source high-quality, ethically obtained hair for further processing and distribution.

Social Responsibility

At Gold Fever Hair, we believe in the power of economic empowerment for local communities. By purchasing hair through authorised suppliers and reputable temples, we are directly contributing to the well-being of these communities. The revenue generated from these transactions directly supports the temples and their associated programs, which in turn uplifts the local communities. We recognise that our business activities have a positive ripple effect, enabling sustainable development, supporting education, healthcare, and other essential needs within these communities. By choosing our products, customers actively participate in this cycle of social responsibility and make a meaningful impact on the lives of those connected to the hair donation process.

Quality Control

At Gold Fever Hair we prioritise rigorous quality control measures to ensure that the hair we sell or process meets the highest standards. Our dedicated team of experts meticulously inspects each stranged hair for texture, length, plasticity and overall quality. We adhere to strict quality control protocolisate guarantee that only the finest hair is selected for further processing or distribution. Maintaining these rigorous quality standards provides our customers with hair products that meet their expectations and deliver an exceptional experience.
