

Structured Water Crystals. The OMNINO AQUA® - Effect.

Perfect and living water straight from the tap

Normal tap water:
The water structures are crushed, structureless, chaotic and without energy.

Normal tap water with Omnino Aqua:
Hexagonal water crystals are lively, structured and full of energy.

Comparison test of the procedure

Normal tap water with a hardness of about 15 was used. The funnel was positioned below the tap and the module of OMNINO AQUA® was placed around the funnel. Then the water tap was turned on and the informed water was collected in a container. This water was frozen at -30 degrees Celsius and then photographed. In addition, a sample of the water without the module was taken from OMNINO AQUA® taken to have a picture for comparison purposes.

The uninformed water shows no structure formation. No hexagonal structures are visible, which indicates a low level of order.

That with OMNINO AQUA® treated water, however, shows a beautiful crystal with strong luminosity. The device from OMNINO AQUA® was able to transform normal tap water into vital, hexagonal water. It can therefore be said that the water has a high information content, which enables beautiful structure formation.

The OMNINO AQUA team has been working with this knowledge for years now. There is now a lot of conclusive evidence for the positive effects. Hexagonal water...

- ✔ can be better utilized by the body with its natural structure
- ✔ is said to relieve skin problems and inflammation
- ✔ stimulate the metabolism
- ✔ improve the pH value and be healthy for our immune system

thanks to the OMNINO AQUA®-effect, limescale hardly sticks anymore and is simply rinsed out (energy saving, less maintenance, etc.). Germs and bacteria are also significantly reduced.

We would be happy to inform you about the many successful applications and the possibility of free testing in your personal environment.
