

The Tussock bedside table lamp includes the matte black light base. These lights have been designed to imitate the shadows that the tussocks in the New Zealand Mackenzie country leave behind as the sun sets. The natural bamboo complements the warm amber light.

Tussock
lighting collection

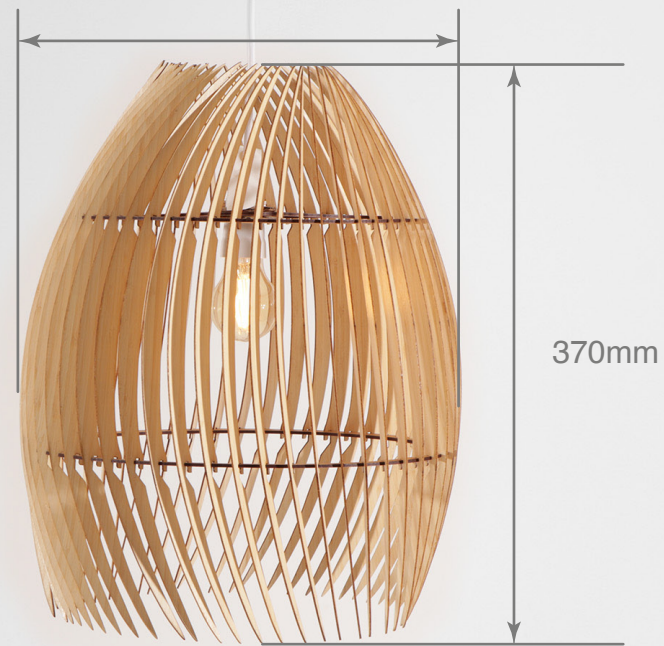

The Tussock collection of lights have been inspired by the New Zealand Mackenzie country.

The origin of my inspiration links back to when I was in school. I was lucky enough to grow up spending my school holidays four wheel driving through this beautiful environment with my family. Spending time in this rugged yet elegant environment showed me a different perspective on the world. This was a perspective not everyone growing up in school got to witness.

My aim for this range is to bring the Mackenzie country into the homes of the users through the materials, forms and shadows that these lights display.
