Conservatory Dining Table

At the heart of the Conservatory collection are the thousands of delicate perforations, a nod to Josef Hoffmann's iconic vase and bowl collection from 1905. These intricate openings in the steel allow the natural world to flow through the furniture, uninterrupted. The perforations invite light and air to pass through, preserving the integrity of the surroundings while subtly integrating the furniture into the outdoor environment. The result is a refined balance between the material and the organic, where nature and design coexist in perfect harmony.
