

glowing
to the chapel

You've ordered the gown and the suit, chosen the cake and the flowers, and prayed for good weather, but what about your skin? Have you considered how it will look on your wedding day? If not, nutritionist Karen Fischer offers some simple ways to ensure that you both have great skin on your big day, in her new book The Healthy Skin Diet.