

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GHOST GALAXY TO BRING MINDBUG CARD GAME TO RETAIL IN NORTH AMERICA IN FALL 2023

July 27th, 2023
ROSEVILLE, MN
UNITED STATES

Game publisher Ghost Galaxy proudly announced today, in partnership with German publisher Nerdlab, that it will be bringing the line of Mindbug card games to North American retail in the Fall of '23.

Mindbug is an innovative design by first time designers Christian Kudahl and Marvin Hegan, alongside industry veteran designer Richard Garfield (Magic: the Gathering, Netrunner, KeyForge, and King of Tokyo).

"Mindbug can be played casually, or quite seriously," said Richard Garfield. "I am looking forward to getting more players in the mix! Making new Mindbug cards is as fun as playing - I hope we get a lot more opportunity to share these designs!"

"The Mindbug line of games has undergone several successful Kickstarter campaigns, and is finally ready to spread its wings to the commercial North American market", said Christian T. Petersen, CEO of Ghost Galaxy. "This is a great design, a system in which even the most wild-and-crazy cards are balanced and fun. I'm sure it will catch on quickly!"

The first Mindbug commercial release "Mindbug: First Contact" will be available through Ghost Galaxy at an MSRP of $19.95 this Fall. Ghost Galaxy is currently in the process of coordinating the necessary retail and distributor relationships to bring the game to market. Ghost Galaxy is a relatively new publisher formed by the former founder of Fantasy Flight Games. During the last 12 months Ghost Galaxy assumed ownership of the hugely popular KeyForge brand and unique-deck game.

For wholesale inquires, please contact Alex Bartos at abartos@ghostgalaxy.com. For press inquires, please contact Jeremy Culver at jculver@ghostgalaxy.com. Additional information may be found at www.ghostgalaxy.com.