GAMMAT

Play Zone for Kids

PLAY

Gammat is a place for joy and laughter... a place where little ones can have fun exploring a space designed to engage their curiosity and nurture their creative minds.

Gammat is the House of MG's 'fun zone' for children, 4 to 12 years of age. The space has trained facilitators and minders who ensure that the tiny tots are safe. They are engaged in playing board games, exploring handmade toys, learning arts and craft, doing various DIY projects, reading curated children's books or simply having fun with other children.

Learning through playing!

Traditional games have stood the test of time and evolved over generations. Parents are able to weave nostalgic narratives as they introduce their child to games they played as kids.

All the products at Gammat are eco-friendly, sustainable and handmade. We have a unique selection of toys, games, DIY kits, art and craft tools as well as books from across India that you will not find anywhere else. Gammat is a window for children to enter into a lifelong journey of appreciating India's varied folkart and culture.
