

WE DON'T TAKE OURSELVES TOO SERIOUSLY. SMOKED FISH, THAT'S A DIFFERENT STORY.

If you came to Acme Smoked Fish, we'd put a hairnet on you and show you around. We'd see David, one of the fourth-generation family owners, answering questions about the fish going in the smoker. We'd watch our expert cutters hand filleting gigantic salmon. And we'd haul wood chips with our master smoker, Shadir, who obsesses about getting just the right temperature and smoke levels. All a part of a process built over 100 years of being in the smoked fish business.

Contact us at AcmeSmokedFish.com and see why everyone wants what we're smoking.
