"A recordplayer for vinyl noobies"

- The F110P belongs to the so-called "fully automatic" turntables. The listener has nothing more to do than to place the record on the turntable, clean it, and switch the control to the start position – that's it.
- Even absolute phono novices don't have to worry about installation and initial setup.
- The full and dense sound presentation, can be described as quite lively and entertaining.
- This very characteristic brings a certain grace when playing preserved records – less hiss and subtle crackle are picked up by the groove.
- If you like to play old records, this turntable is a solid base.
