PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Fall, glorious Fall. I grew up in South Jersey, and I remember Fall as knee deep, crackling dry, leaves on the ground, that I loved to kick up into the air. There's a certain smell that those leaves lend to the air in Fall. And there are other special smells: the smell of apple pie baking, and pumpkins being carved up for Halloween Celebrations. At home here in Oregon, I love riding East on the Umpqua to see those yummy deciduous leaf colors. Maybe this year I'll take a train ride to see the reds, golds, rusts, and yellows. I love the thistles and sprouted artichokes, the end of the hydrangea blossoms. It is time to prune and clip hedges. I think I'll hire a gardener this year. I do love my time in the garden, but weed-wacking and hedge cutting are getting less fun as the years pass. The colors in our palette change with the seasons, and I welcome the change. And the rains begin again giving us the hope of damping down the fires that have raged through our wonderful Pacific Northwest.

I hope that you were able to attend the September General Meeting. Susan Lehman, using her own lovely abstract work as examples, presented a wonderful program about how to critique our own work as well as the work of others, and how to receive and evaluate critique. A light bulb moment for me was that critique is important to be given well, as well as important to be received well, evaluate, and decide if it applies. Wouldn't it be wonderful to have a BAAA Critique Group?

Twenty-six people attended the meeting, and Membership Chair Wendy Whitaker is signing up four new members. Welcome, Karen, Deborah, Janet, and Jackie.

In October we shall be potters. Play with clay! BAAA member and clay medium artist, Catherine Walworth, will lead us in the creation of clay coil baskets. This will be a 2 day process, so keep your calendars clear for Sunday 10/16 to build the basket and 10/23 to paint the fired basket. More detailed information will follow via email. Wear your funky dungies for the first session.

VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED

 Nominations Committee – Chair, Wendy Whitaker needs assistance. The following positions are open on the 2023 BAAA Board of Directors: President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer. If you are available to help recruit a member for the board, or if you are available for any of these responsibilities, please put your name forward.

BAAA TUESDAY PLEIN AIR PAINTERS

A number of BAAA Tuesday Plein Air Painters (TPAP) participated in the 1st Coastal Plein Air Paintout hosted by Florence Arts and Events. It has been great fun, and we all look forward to 2023's event. It's also been a terrific learning experience, painting out every day September 16-29. Participants will submit up to 3 paintings for Judge Barbara Jaenicke, Master Pastelist of the Pastel Society of America, and Oregon artist. Paintings will be on display at the Florence Arts and Events building beginning September 29.

Entries will be judged from actual artwork. • Artwork will be displayed in the Florence Event Center, 715 Quince Street, for the Art and Wine Festival weekend, October 1 and 2.

Call to BAAA Artists! ~ Eden Hall Show

Our annual member show at Eden Hall on the SWOCC campus is approaching.

Here are the dates: Friday, Oct 7th – Monday, Nov 28th

Bring your artwork between noon and 1pm on the 7th. You may bring up to three pieces and there is no entry fee. Pick up date for retrieving artwork is Nov 28th – Dec 3rd. Please bring your artwork by 1pm so that we have the afternoon to arrange and hang the show. If you are not able to come in at that time or have someone else to bring in your work, we can make other arrangements for drop off. Call Wendy, 415 272-1894 or email at: wendy8burger@gmail.com for entry form or further questions.

Wall art must be ready to hang with wire—no sawtooth or other hooks, please. Fiber art must have a secure way to display on walls. For those working in 3-D, the gallery has pedestals for display. This is a wonderful venue for showing experimental, or possibly, controversial artwork, that might not find a display place in other public places.

James Fritz, who heads the art department, likes to expose students to a variety of artforms and provoke thought and discussion about art. There will be a reception on Thursday, November 3rd, at Noon. We would love to have a good turn out for this reception. The students have a break between classes at noon and it would great to have our artists available to talk about their artwork and answer questions students might have.

If you haven't participated in this show before, the address is 1988 Newmark Ave. in Coos Bay. You will find it easiest to park at a lot at the far end of the campus. After entering the road to the campus, turn right and follow the road around the playing fields to the parking lots behind the buildings. Eden Hall is closest to the first parking lot.

FEATURED ARTIST OF THE MONTH

Carollee Tucker, BAAA Featured Artist

On display Oct - Nov

Upstairs, Coos Art Museum

I have drawn and painted since I was young simply because it was fun. I began painting in casein because that was the first book I read on painting. For quite a while I simply copied photographs I found in the National Geographic magazine. Next, I discovered that someone in my area was teaching oil painting so I tried that for a while. Then people generally seemed to be discovering acrylic painting so I took a class in that. I don't really remember how I discovered watercolor, but I really enjoyed it. At a few classes with various instructors.

The painting style that really grabbed my attention was with Hal Lambert of Laguna Beach. I took several of the paint outs and classes he taught and that was when my true love of watercolor set in, and I have never looked back. It was kind of messy and loose and carefree and suited me perfectly.

I have enjoyed many years of classes at Coos Art Museum with Liv Drahos because she would encourage her students to "paint outside of their comfortable boxes" and come up with a some surprising unexpected results. There's that fun again. I currently belong to BAAA and I am a member of the co-operative gallery, The Art Loft, just down the street. We have an informal paint group on Friday mornings. Please join us and have some fun.

Bandon Art Walk Winner

The Art Walk along the Bandon Boardwalk this summer has been a resounding success with numerous entries. Bandon Artist, Jill Stockford took home the 1st place award as well as this year's People's Choice Award! Awards were given out last month at Bandon's Cranberry Festival.

The words painted on it are LOOK CLOSER, and upon closer inspection there are plenty of hidden animals to discover! This has been a big year for Jill, as she was also the featured artist at the Bandon Hospital this summer with her "Dog Days of Summer" exhibit as well as being written up in PERSPECTIVE last month. Congratulations!
