ABOUT

Dermethod's Latoxin ampoule is part of their Derma Level collection, and is a micro-channeling system for professional use only. The "microneedle stimulator" maximizes the absorption of the ampoule by creating fine channels in the skin. The length of the needles can be adjusted depending on the skin condition.

This treatment comes in a safe, sterile, disposable ampoule-integrated adjustable microneedle stimulator. The needles are made of medical-grade acryl which prevents allergies. The adjustable depth includes three levels: .3, .4 and .5

- Safe, sterile, disposable ampoule-integrated adjustable microneedle stimulator
 - Sterilized disposable device fully hygienic by EO gas
 - Convenience - Ampoule is filled in airless (vacuum) container for simultaneous skin stimulation and ampoule dispense
 - Customized skincare with 3-stage adjustable levels for several skin concerns and areas
 - LEVEL I : For skin glowing and moisturizing
 - LEVEL II : Also for pore tightening and silky texture
 - LEVEL III : Also for serious skin concerns and trouble areas
 - Number of Needles - 32
 - Thickness of Needle - 34 Gauge
- * This product is a skin stimulator, not a medical device.
* DERMA LEVEL 345 enables hygienic and safe treatment by sterilizing product in individual package.

This treatment is for those concerned with fine lines and signs of pre-mature aging. The CENTEL-LAPOSOME is Callus extracted from Centella Asiatica (plant-derived exosome) which is a unique ingredient of Dermethod. This essential peptide complex helps increase volume and stimulates collagen and elastin.

WHAT IS CENTEL-LAPOSOME?

Sterile cultured plant cell mass callus containing nutrients is developed by extracting and separating parts of Centella Asiatica. Because it develops in wounded areas of the plant, more defense factors and effective biological ingredients are secreted in order to recover.

Other important ingredients found in Latoxin include:

Syn-ake is a peptide which mimics the action of snake venom which helps reduce the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles.

sh-Oligopeptide-1 is a EGF (epidermal growth factor) which helps increase collagen and elastin while strengthening the skin's barrier.

Acetyl Octapeptide-3 influences muscle contraction to promote a more relaxed face which improves the appearance of fine lines.

Acetyl Hexapeptide-8 is a protein found in Botox. It is used in cosmetics due to its powerful anti-aging properties.

Aluminum Sucrose Octasulfate helps is reparative and helps to promote tissue growth.

Sodium DNA aka PDRN increases metabolic activity in cells
