Every Year

Olsenhaus is collaborating with a local jewelry designer, making handcrafted adornments of locally found and responsibly sourced sharks teeth

Sharks have hundreds to thousands of teeth at a time and can shed up to 30,000 in a lifetime

The teeth are fossilized over millions of years and are washed up shore, or can be found on the ocean floor, by diving

The teeth are from several different species of sharks each organically molded by the sea

The teeth come in various sizes, shapes and colors. They can be left natural or adorned with swarovski crystals

They can be fashioned as shoe clips and removable or attached directly to shoe

Olsenhaus will also be partnering with an ocean conservatory organization and proceeds of sales will be donated.
