1 Trinity Bellwoods Park and Ella's Uncle

Weekends we love to start our days running around Trinity Bellwoods Park with our kids and our wonder dog. Trinity Bellwoods is one of the nicest (and few) green spaces in the area. Great for dogs and humans alike. Great family shiny in the winter at the rink and the mega-dirt pile fun is replaced by the best Toronto program Art in the Park in the summer time. Not going to lie, from May until September, the park itself is a completely different animal but we love it all the same. We bounce from end to end with the usual goal of hitting Ella's Uncle on Dundas and Grace. Ella's has the best atmosphere any time of day, any season. The Ella's crew is like a family to us. The soundtrack Ella plays is great and the scones are our kids' favourite thing on earth.

2 Artscape Youngplace

Our weekday moves have us keeping close to the creative hive that is Artscape Youngplace. Artscape is a real hub for the kinds of collaborative conversations that lead to amazing things. We are very lucky to have our studio in the building.

3 La Cubana

Our favourite lunch spot is around the corner on Ossington Street. La Cubana is ideal day or night. Quick and easy for the workday. In the evenings, it is a great place to hit with the kids. The food is always delicious.

4 Tunes and Laughter

Our nights out usually center around music or comedy. We usually start the night with a bite and a drink at our local Union. Their bison sliders and frites with a can of Woodhouse are the best jumping-off point. The Union crew is a solid bunch.

5 Danforth Music Hall

This year has been all about Danforth Music Hall for shows. At the risk of dating ourselves — we lost our minds (once again) seeing the likes of Primal Scream, Slowdive, Father John Misty, Ride, GODSPEED YOU BLACK EMPEROR and many more — Right-on DMH!
