EXPLORE & ADVENTURE

Whether you are in the great wide-open of nature's backyard, or in your own backyard, a FORT is a shelter built for comfort, safety and fun. We aim to produce quality gear that will last and be loved from one adventurer to another, while making as little dent on our planet as possible. The fabrics we choose consider both the level of comfort required to live free and comfortably without constraint. The eco/organic nature of the fabrics and the proximity to which the clothing comes together ensures we are leaving a healthy world for future young explorers.
