

Where hometown pride shines bright!

Tina and Russ Richardson have been small business owners in Arlington since 2015 when they launched Reclaimed Heart—a business that transformed forgotten and neglected home items into rustic works of art.

Their business evolved to where their hand-poured soy candles became a focus of the then downtown Arlington shop and ultimately they began to focus solely on customized candles with the emphasis on “home town,” which is extremely important to Tina and Russ.

This unique hometown approach has attracted them to other small businesses where candles are sold across the United States, into Canada and, in 2021, even into places like Belfast, UK!

You can order candles online through hometowncandleco.com/order-candles or for your wholesale business through Faire.
