Barr Hill Raw Honey is the distinctive ingredient in Barr Hill Gin, Tom Cat Gin, and Barr Hill Vodka. It is always kept raw (never heated or pasteurized) to retain the depth of the character of the land from which it comes. Sourced within 250 miles of the Barr Hill Distillery in Montpelier, Vermont, it features true northeastern terroir. Its floral depth is a testament to the hard work of the honey bees that forage our region. This is truly one of nature's most precious treasures. Barr Hill Raw Honey makes a great addition to a finely crafted food line up and artisanal cocktail ingredient offering.
