

Bing Buzz

Happy Lunar New Year

The Vietnamese zodiac has a buffalo instead of an ox.

And a cat instead of a rabbit!

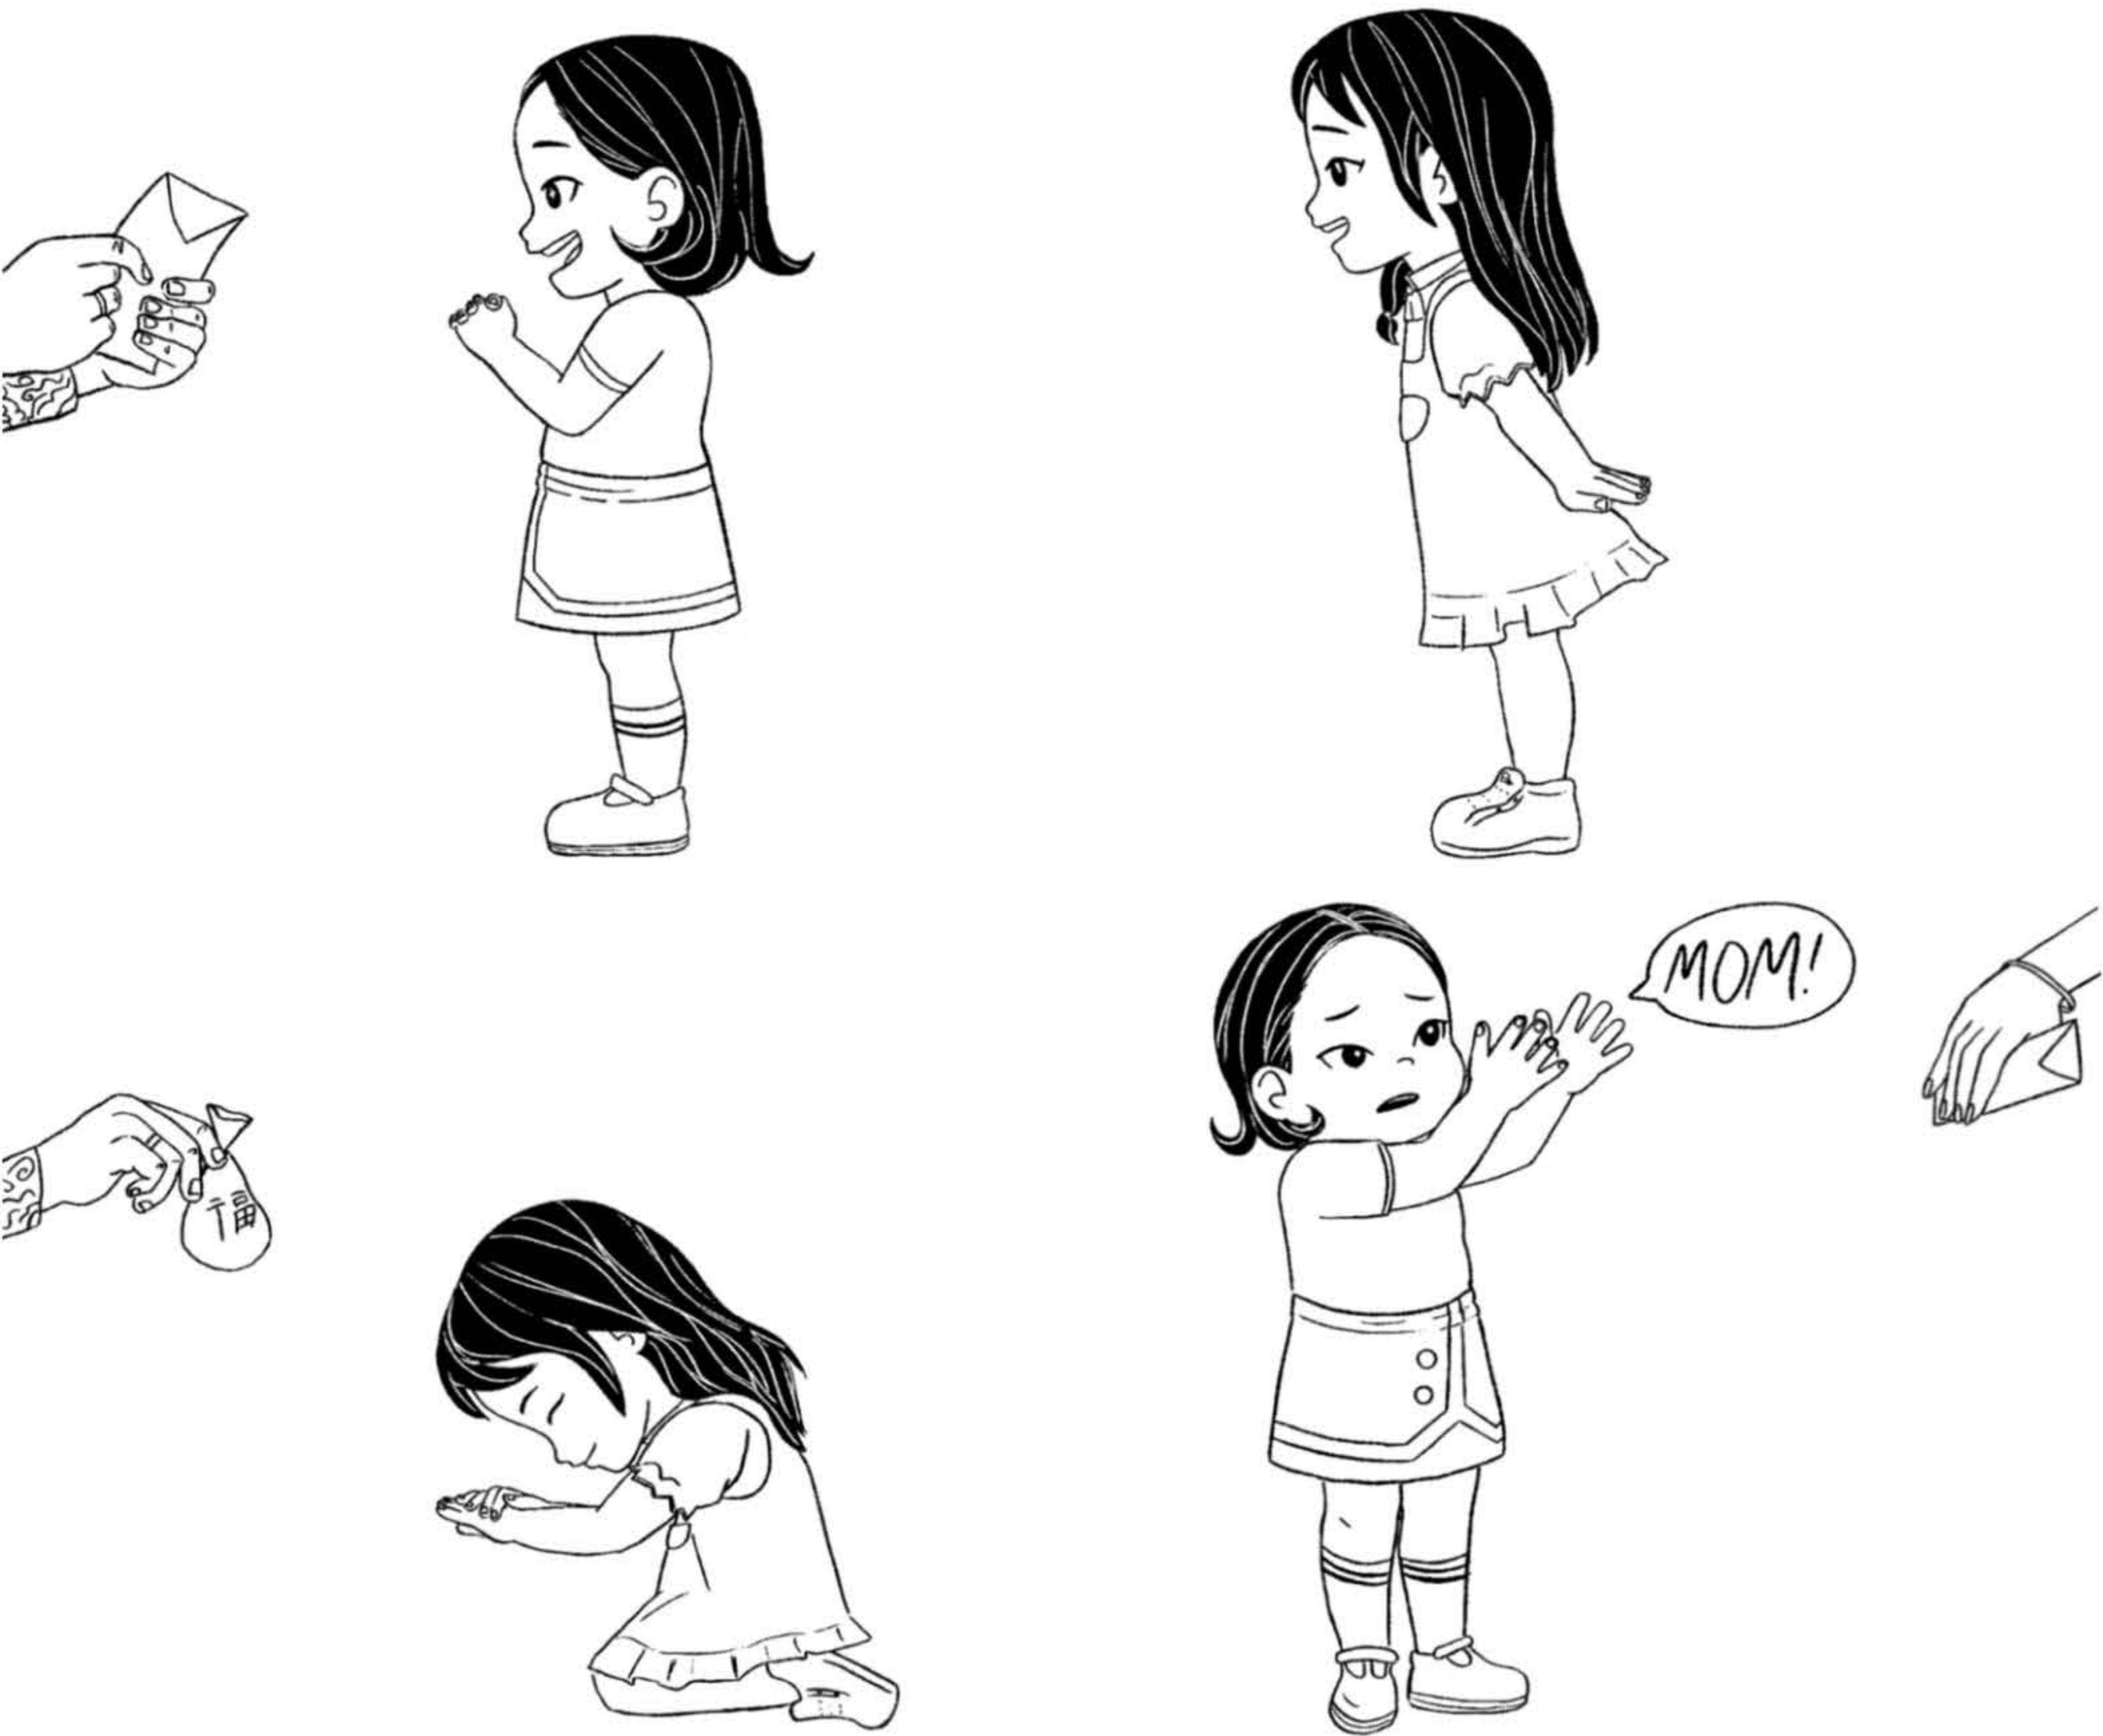

Time for a picnic. Find the hidden foods.

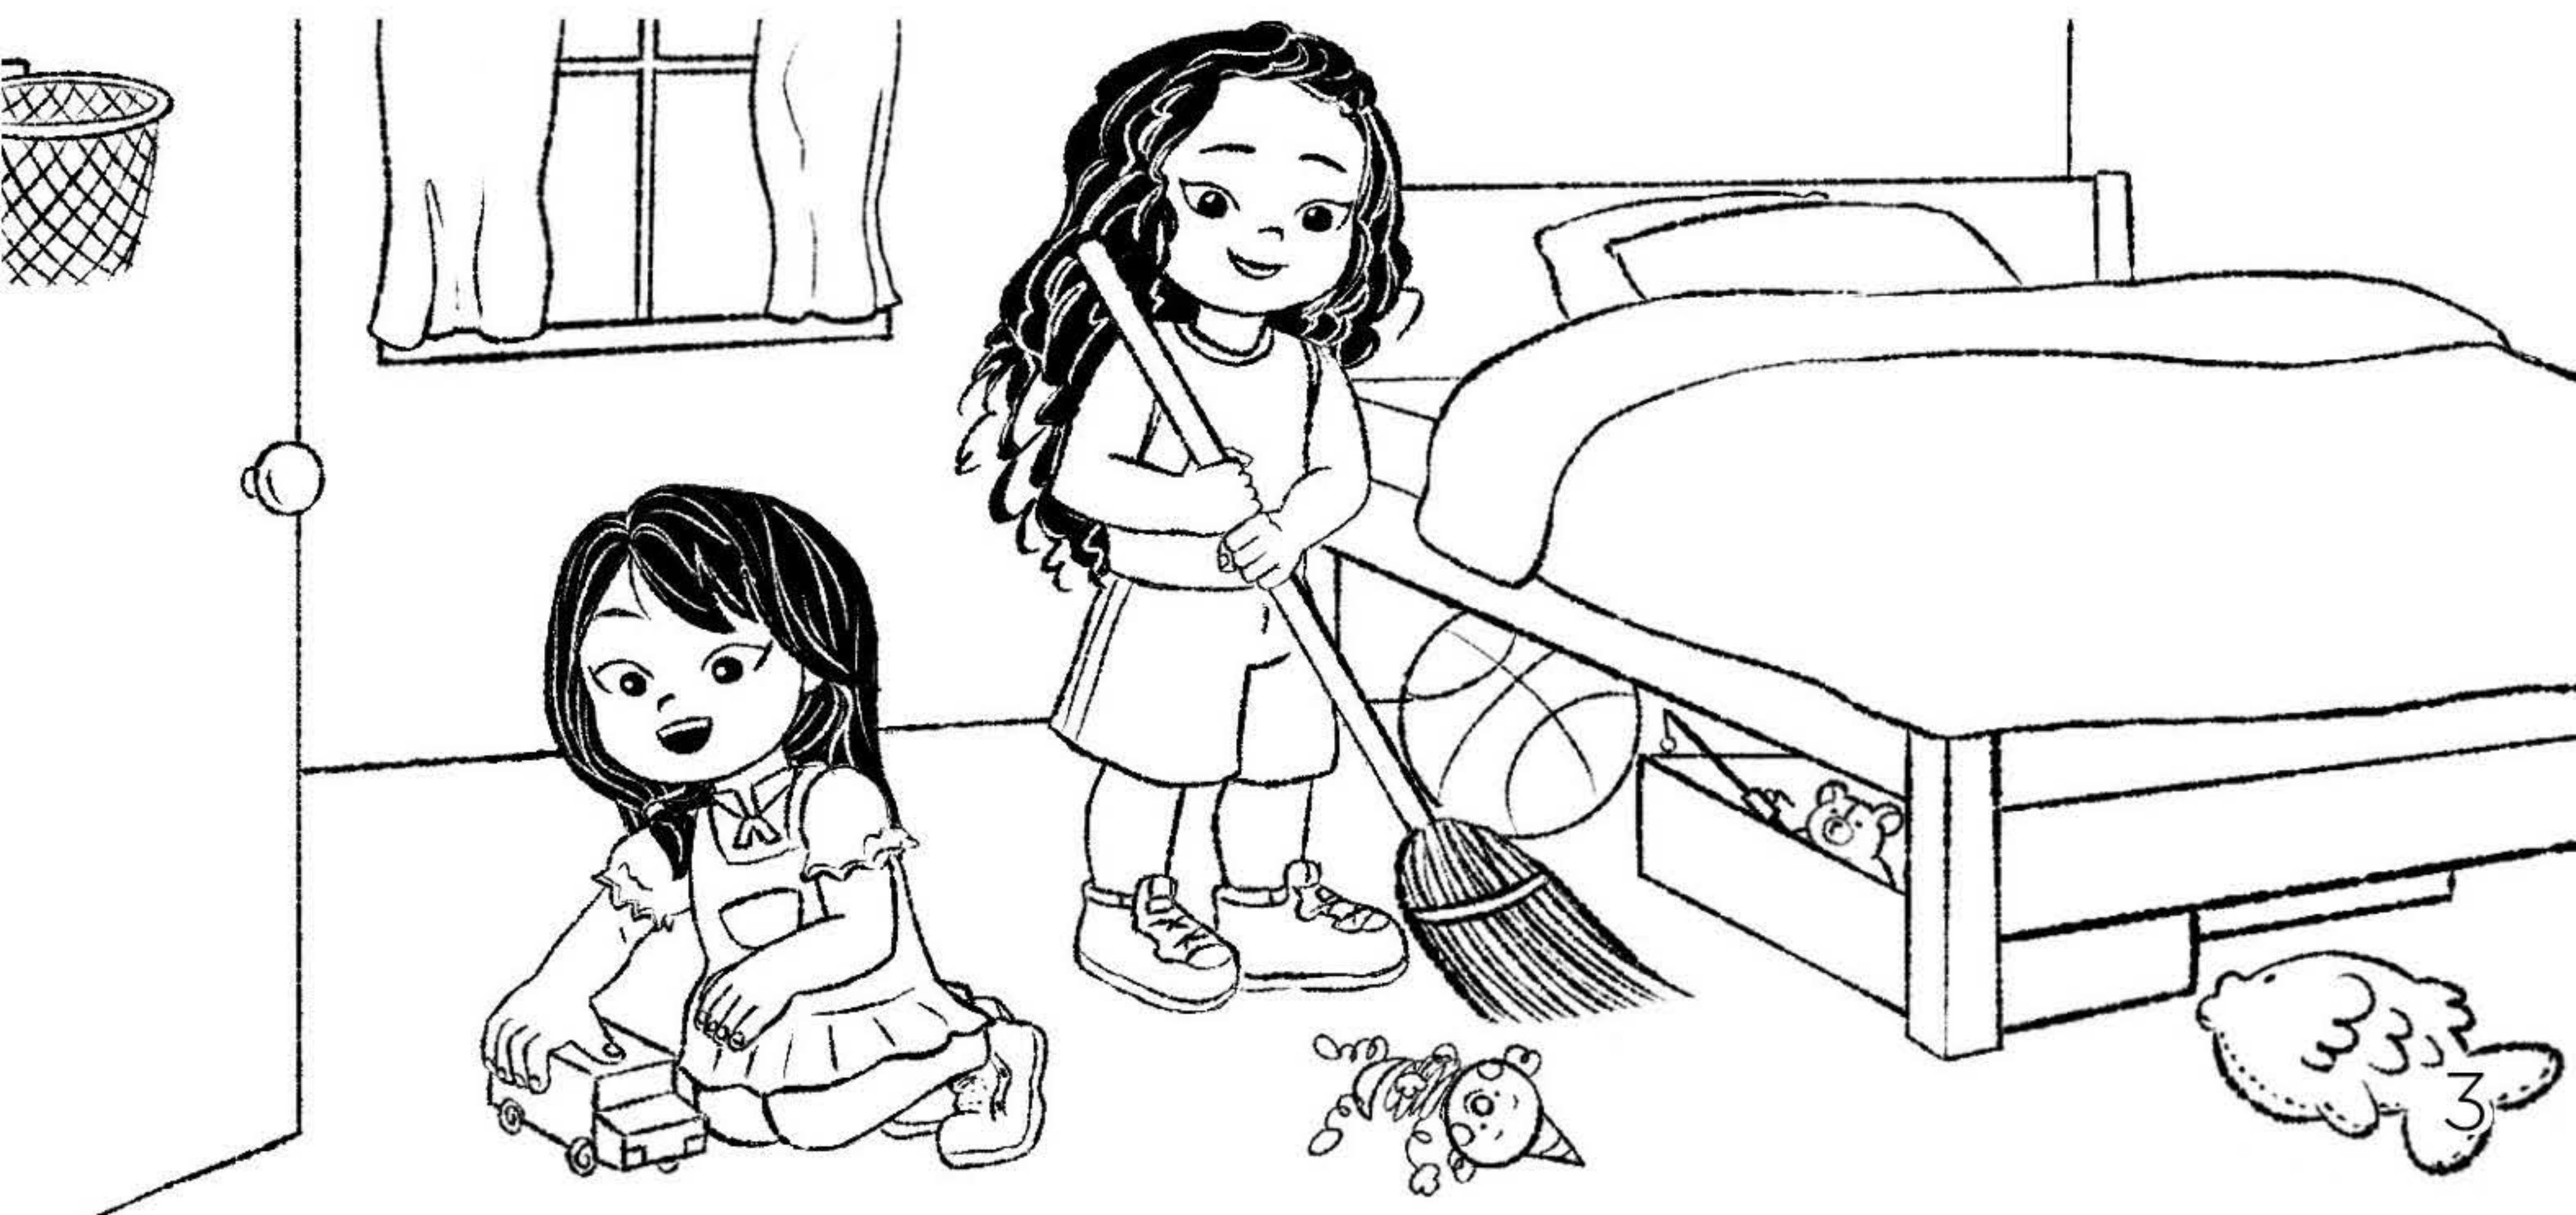

-
 tteok
(Korean rice cake)
-
 watermelon seed
-
 mandarin orange
-
 banh tet
(Vietnamese sticky rice cake)
-
 long-life noodles
-
 kuih kapit
(Malaysian love letter crepe cookies)
-
 steamed dumpling
-
 biko
(Filipino sticky rice cake)
-
 lapis legit
(Indonesian layer cake)

Lucky Money

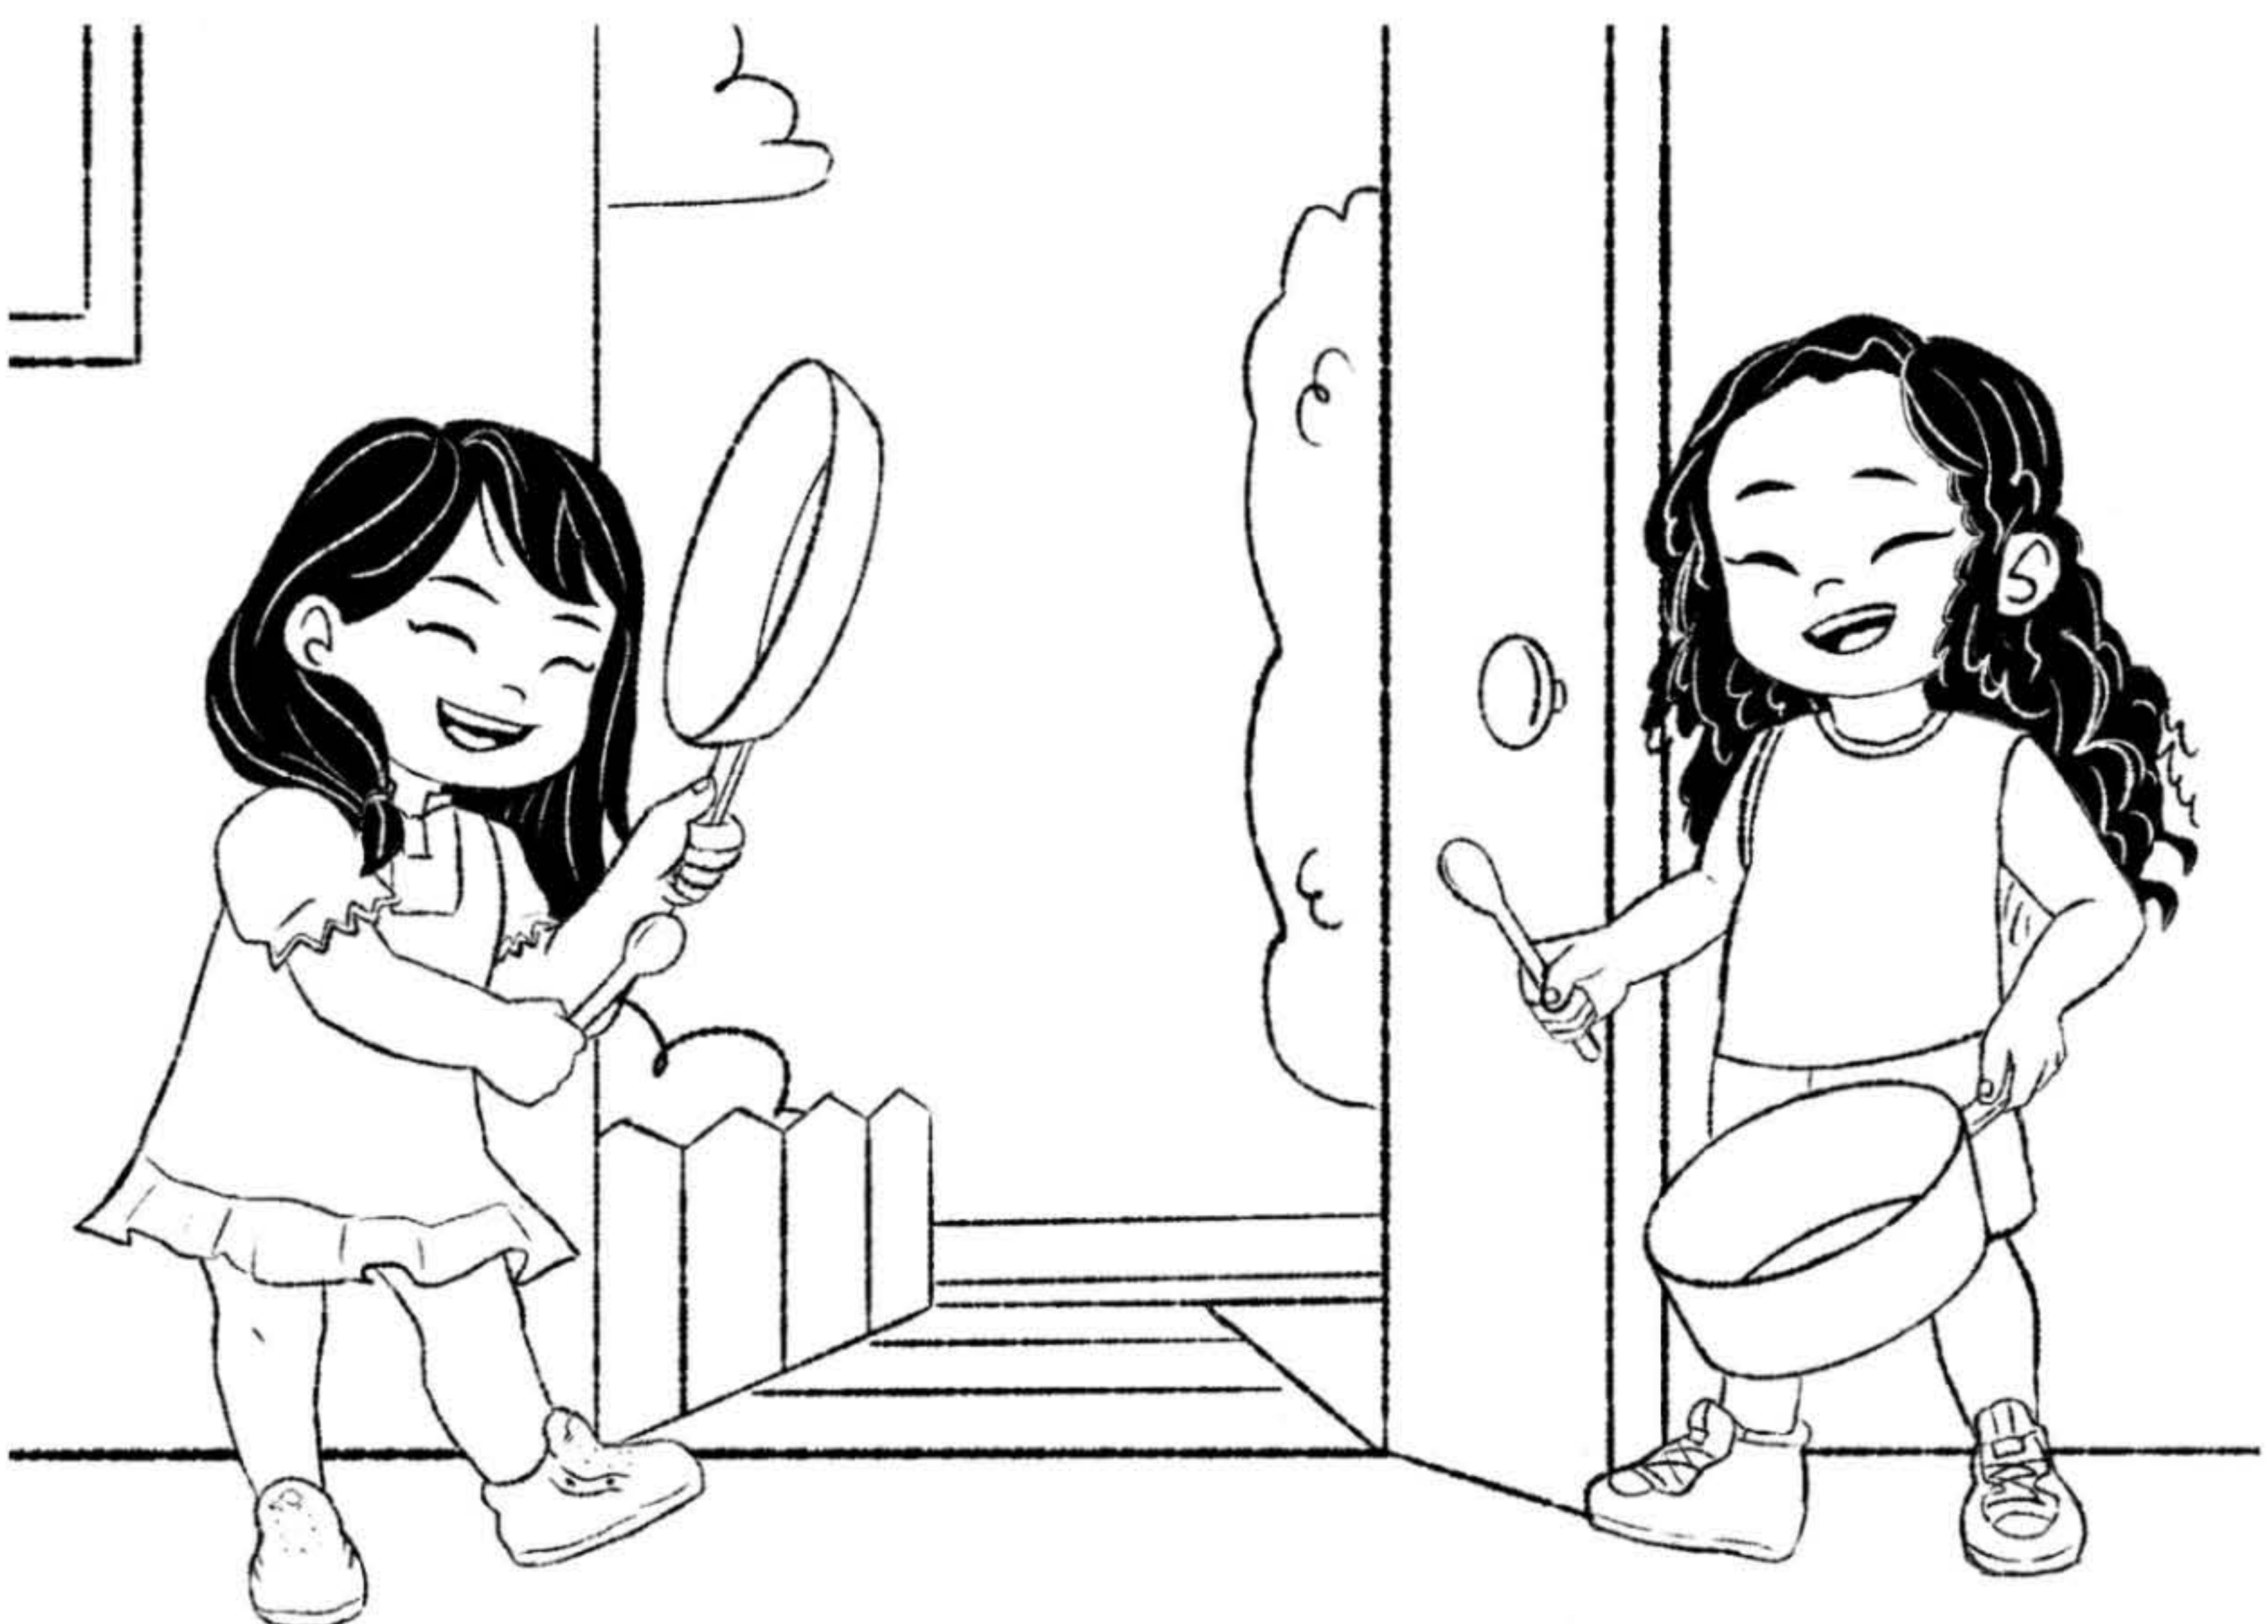

The Big Sweep

Polka Dot Sleepover

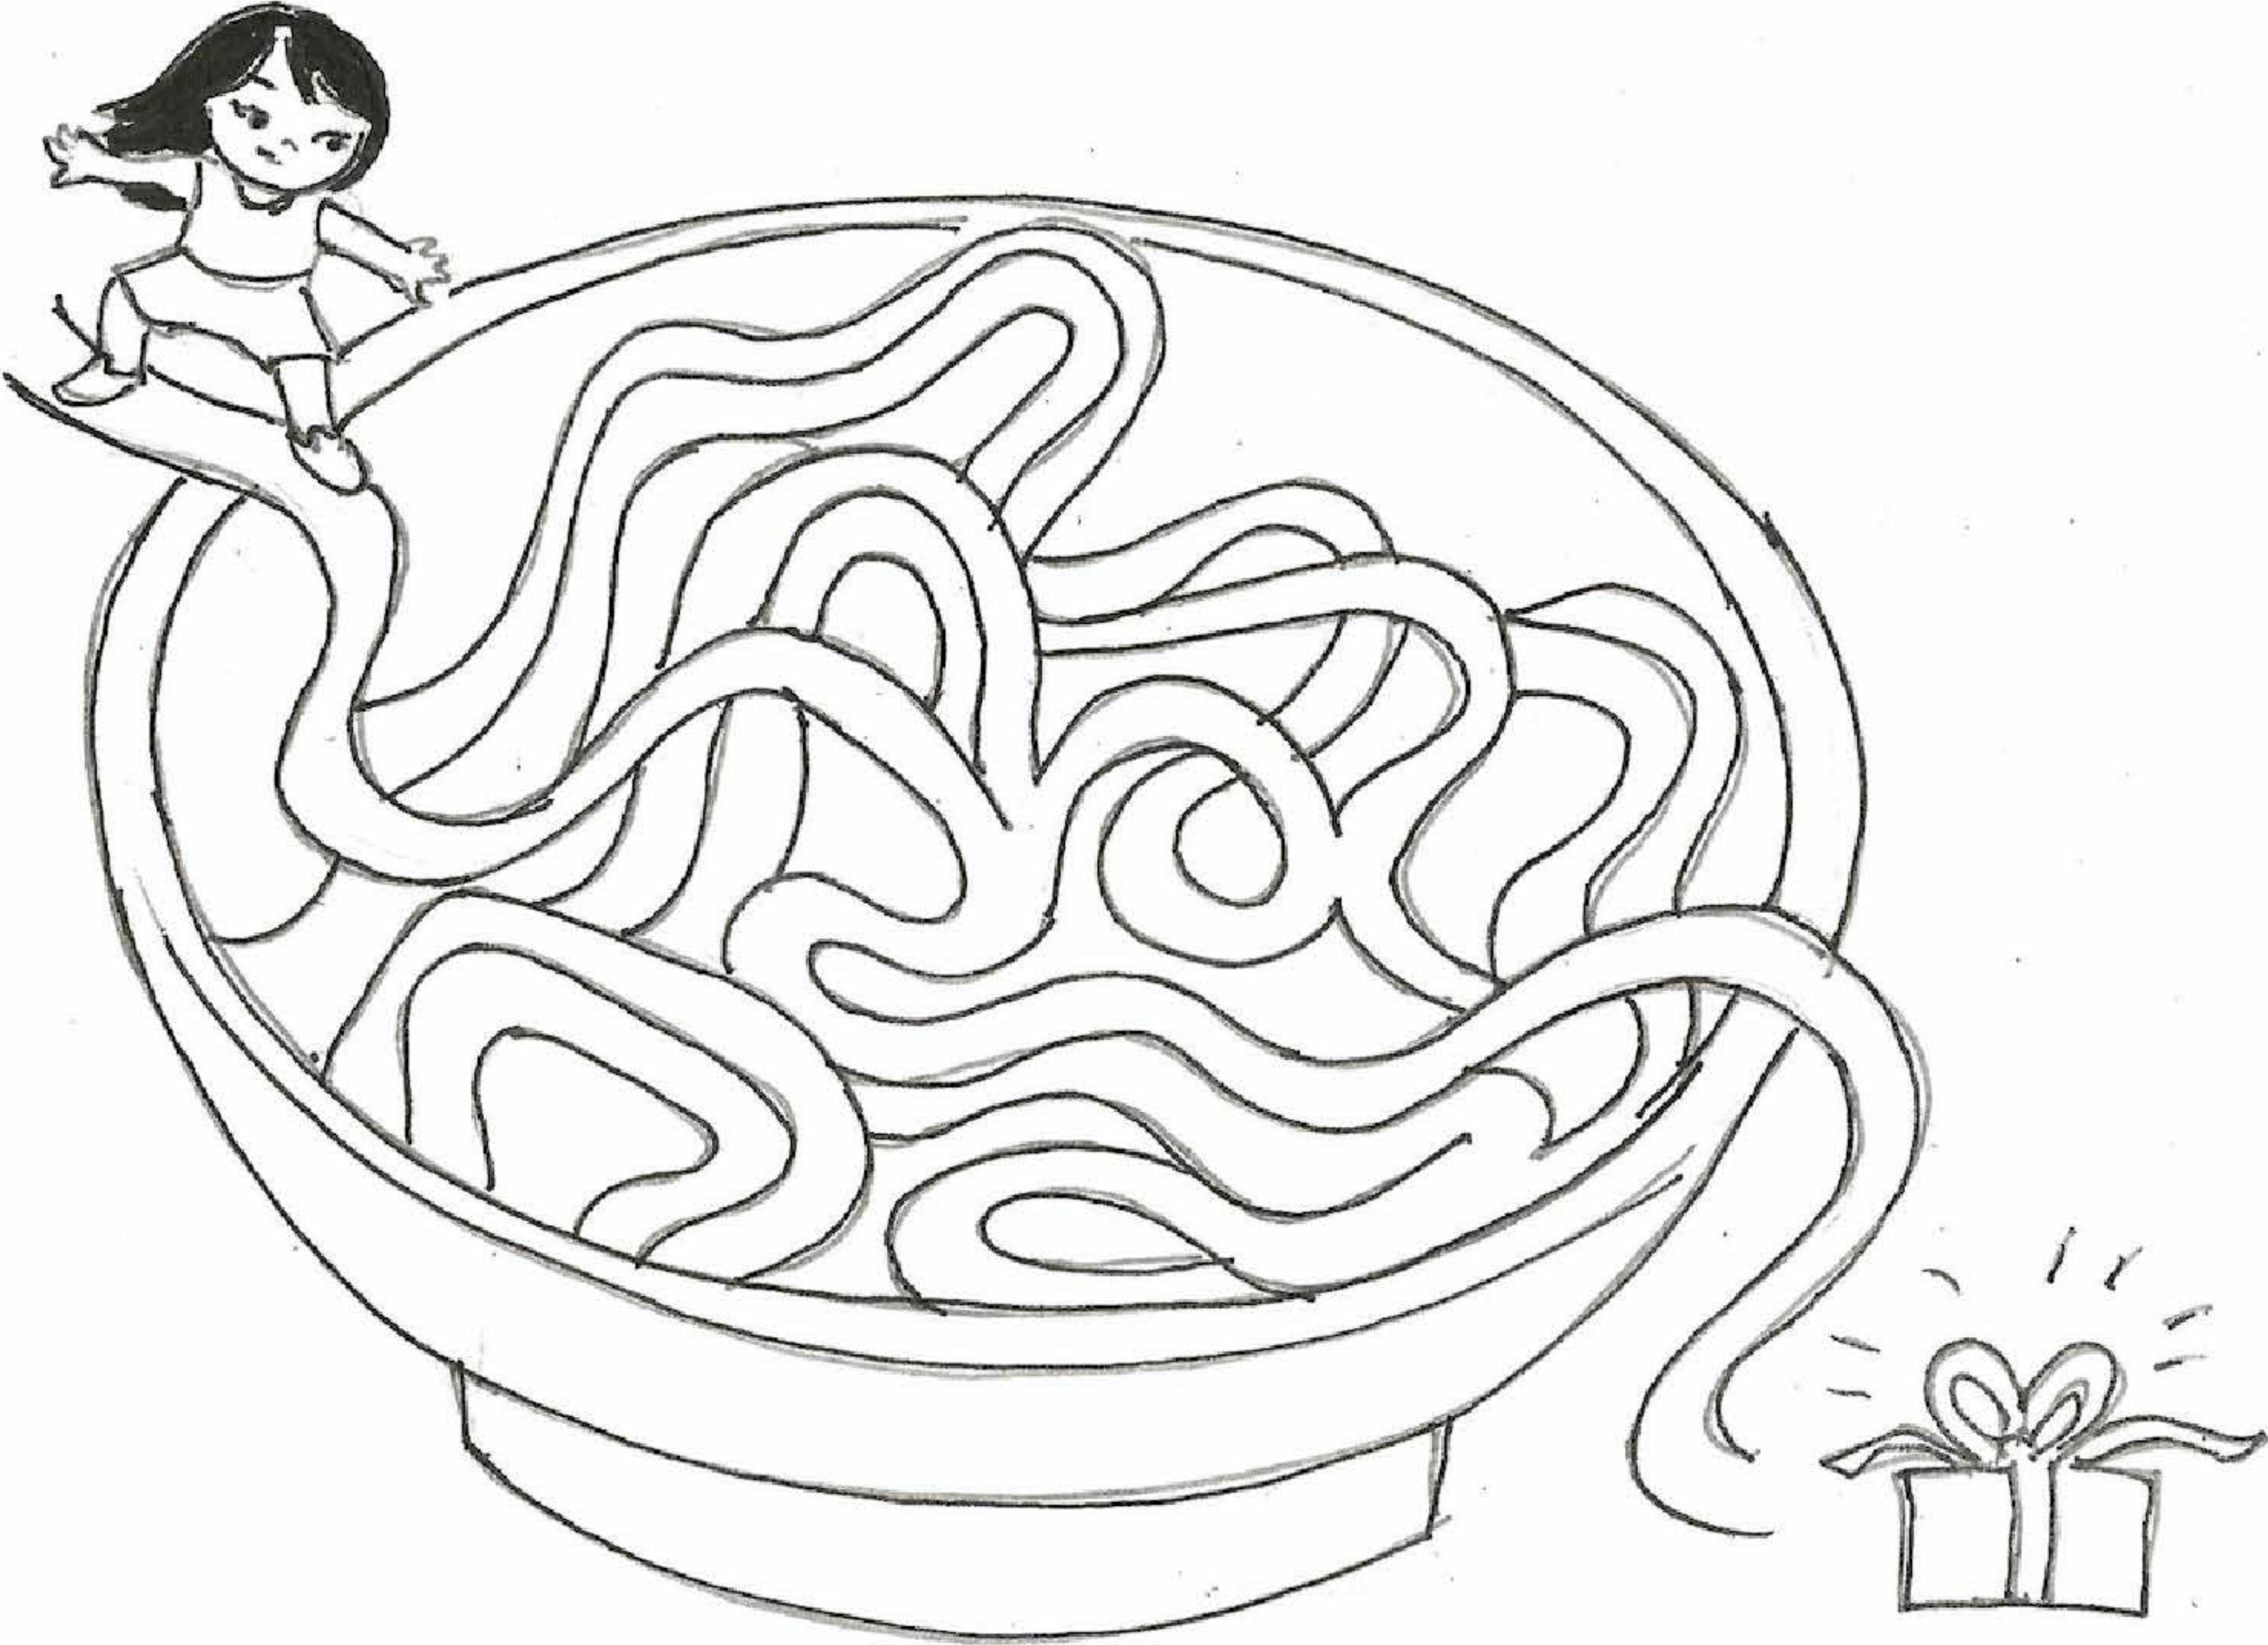

Let's Make Some Noise

Jilly's Naptime Dreams

Help Jilly through her birthday noodle maze to her gift.

Tang Yuan (Riceball) Recipe

ingredients
1 cup of sticky
(sweet) rice flour
1/2 cup
warm water
1 can of red bean

1 add rice flour
to a big bowl

2 add warm water
while stirring to
make dough

3 form balls

4 form cups
out of dough

5

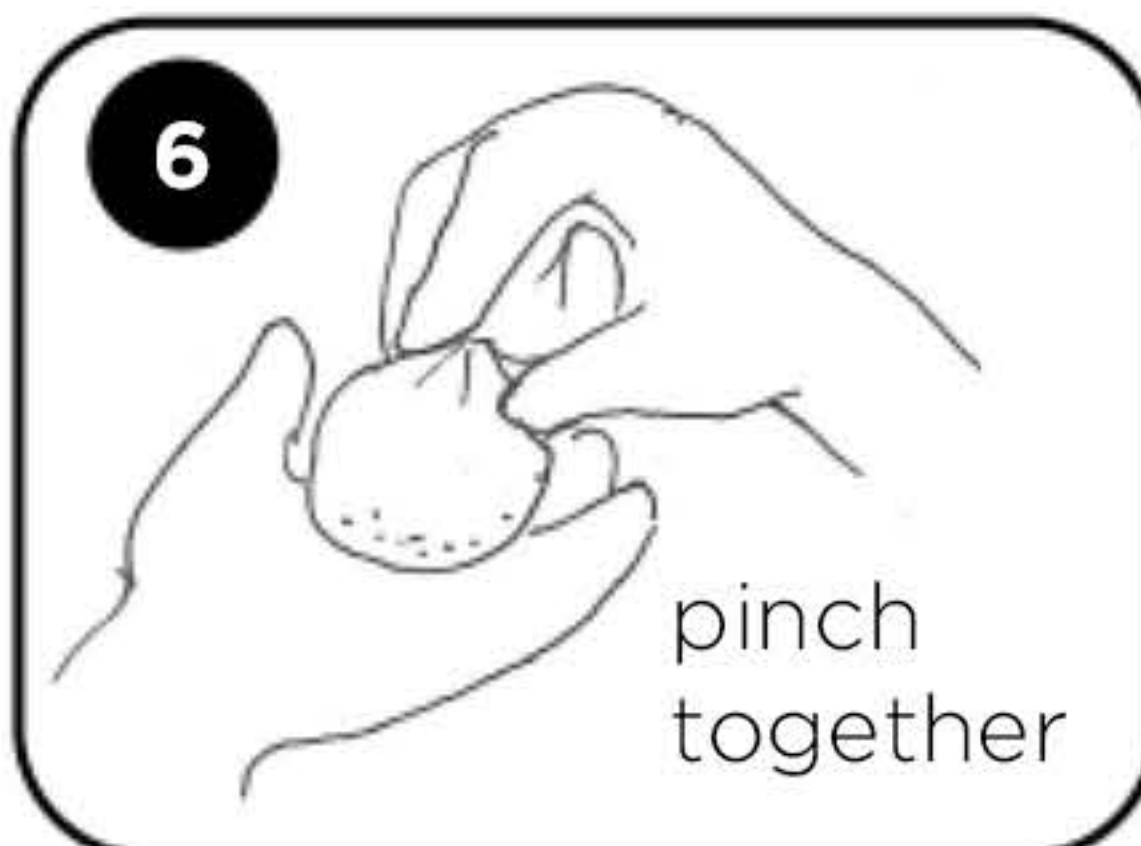

place
red bean
inside

6

pinch
together

so good with
sesame paste too!

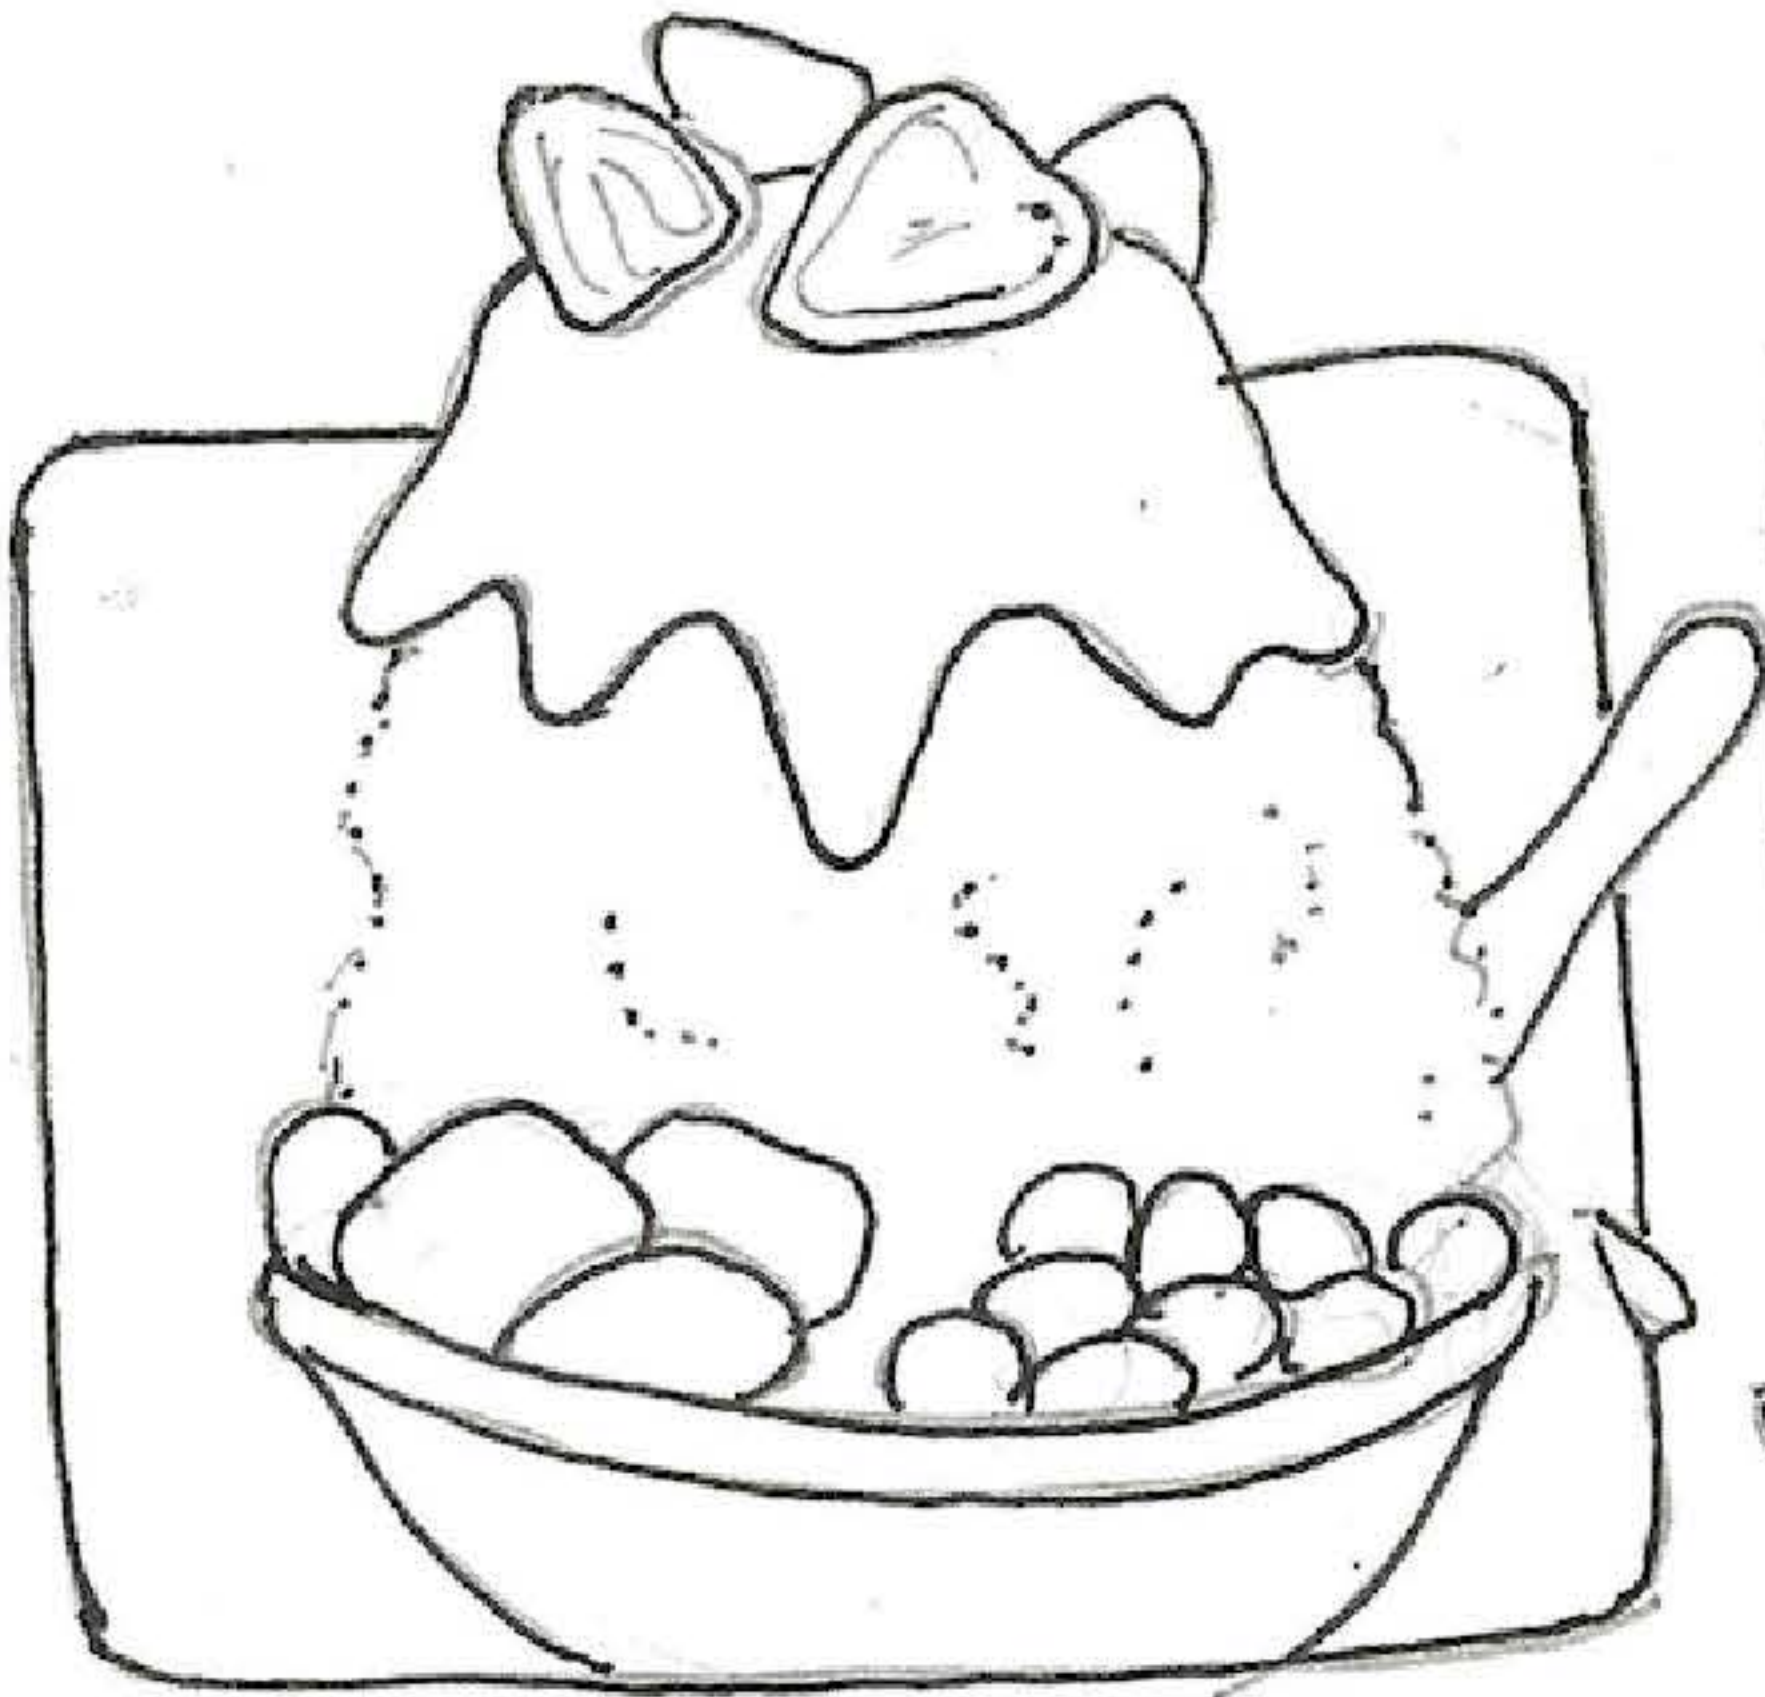

7

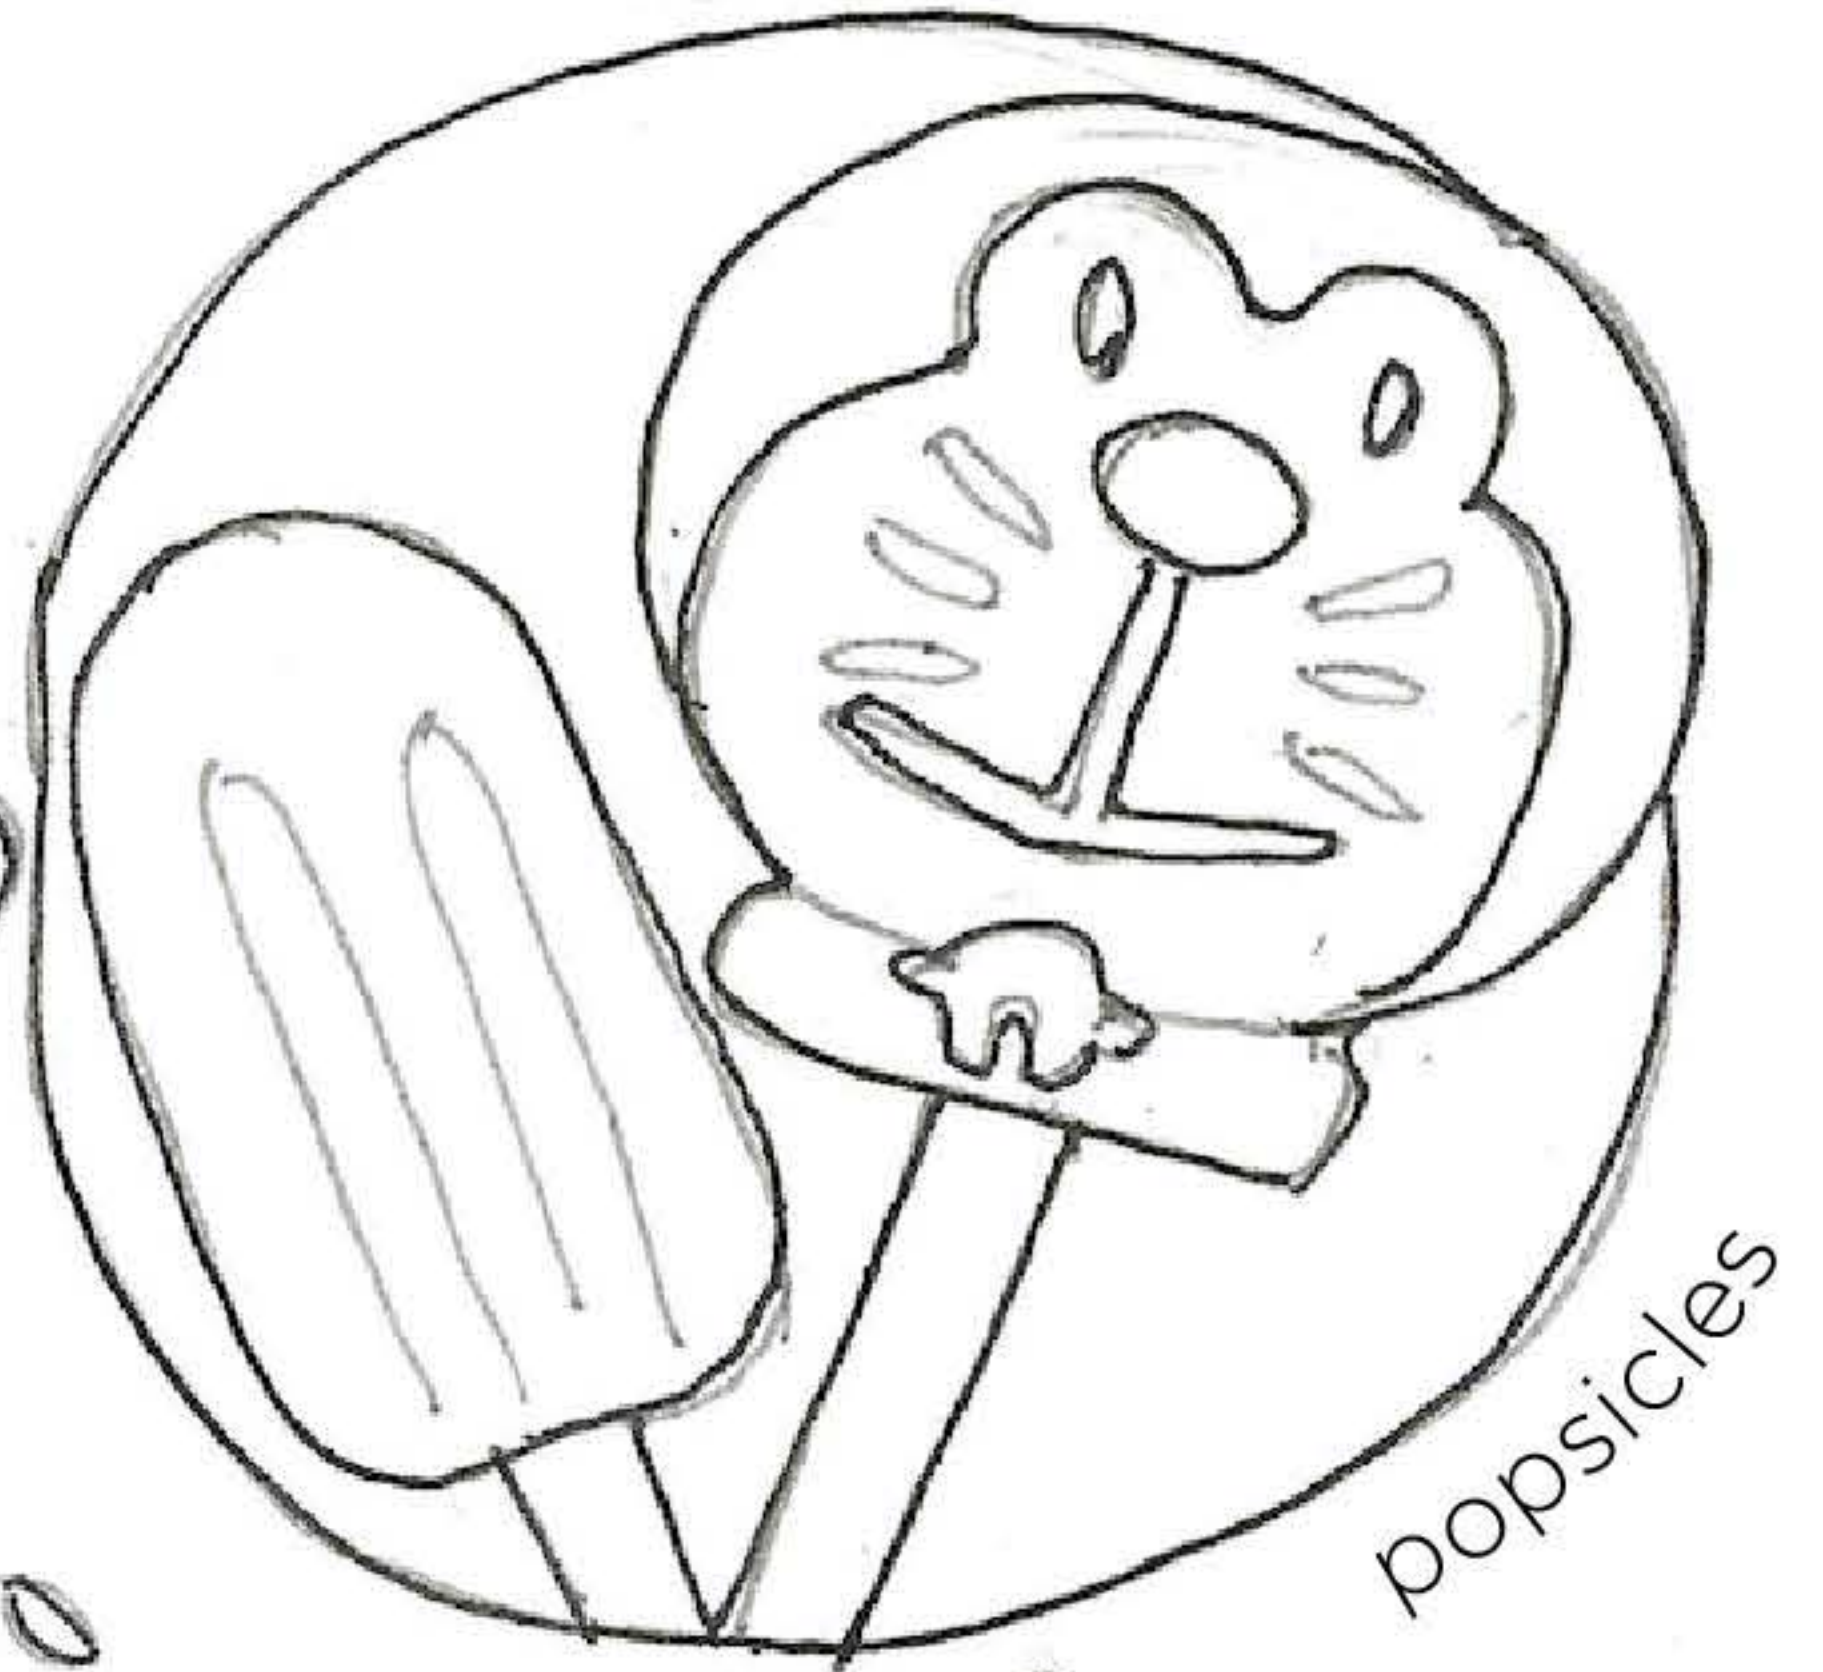

bring pot of water
to boil (with an adult), add balls,
then boil until
cooked through
about 3-4 min

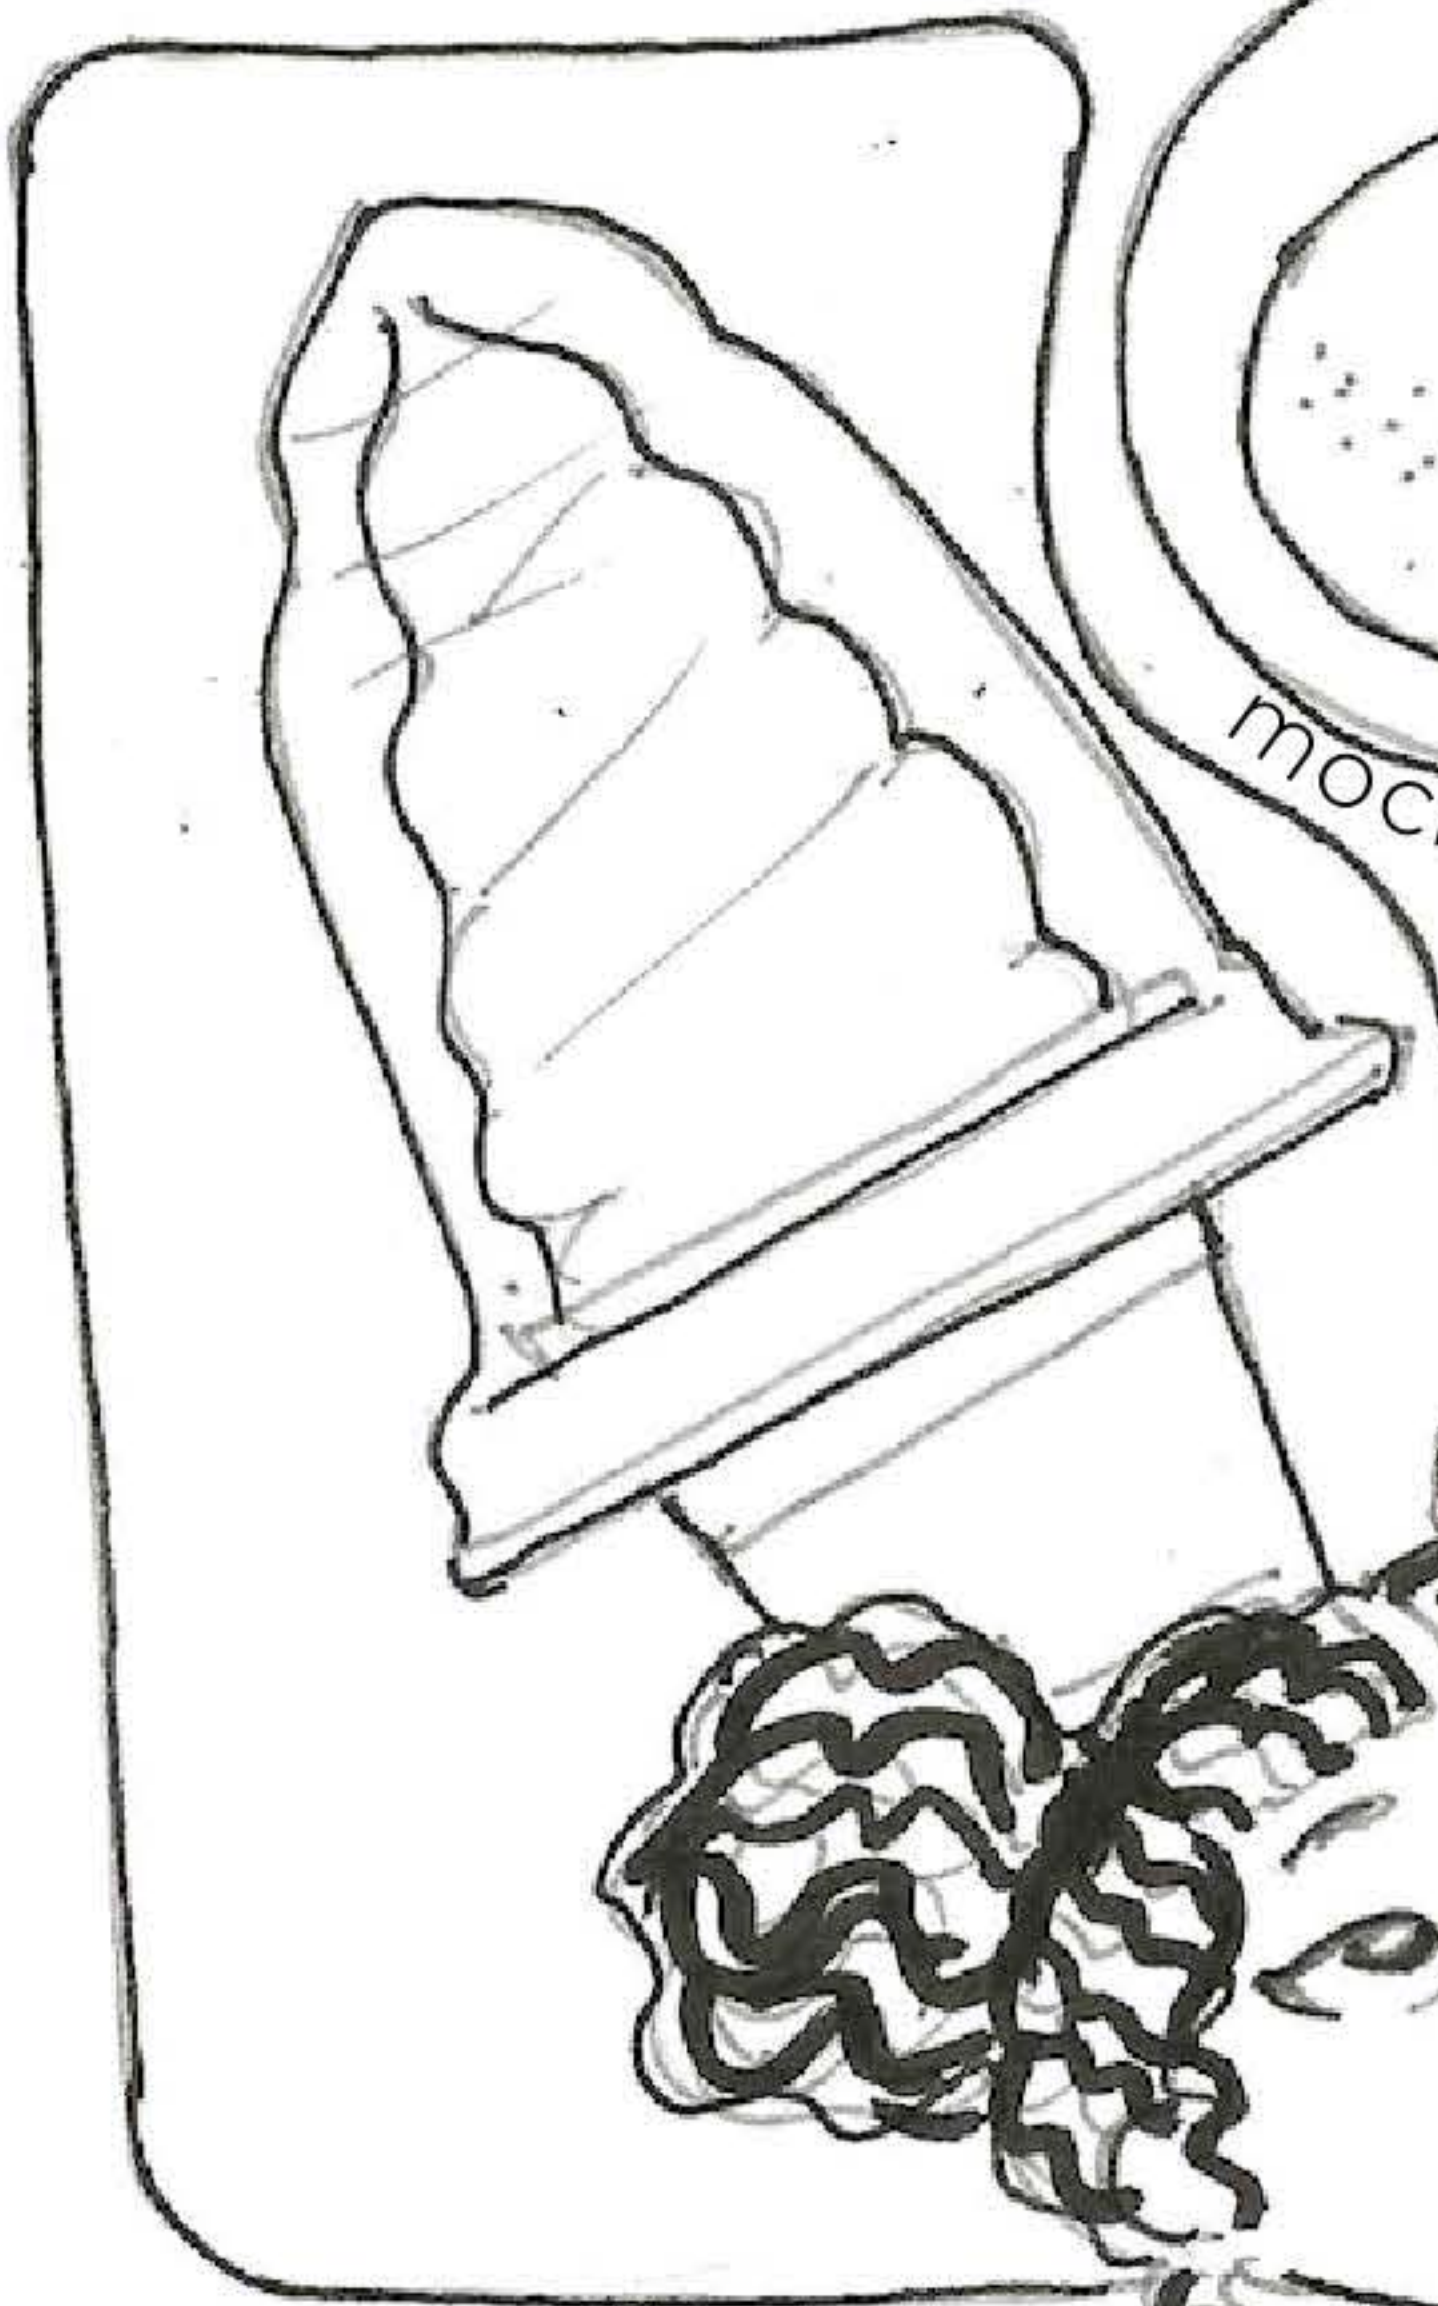

Favorite Ice Creams

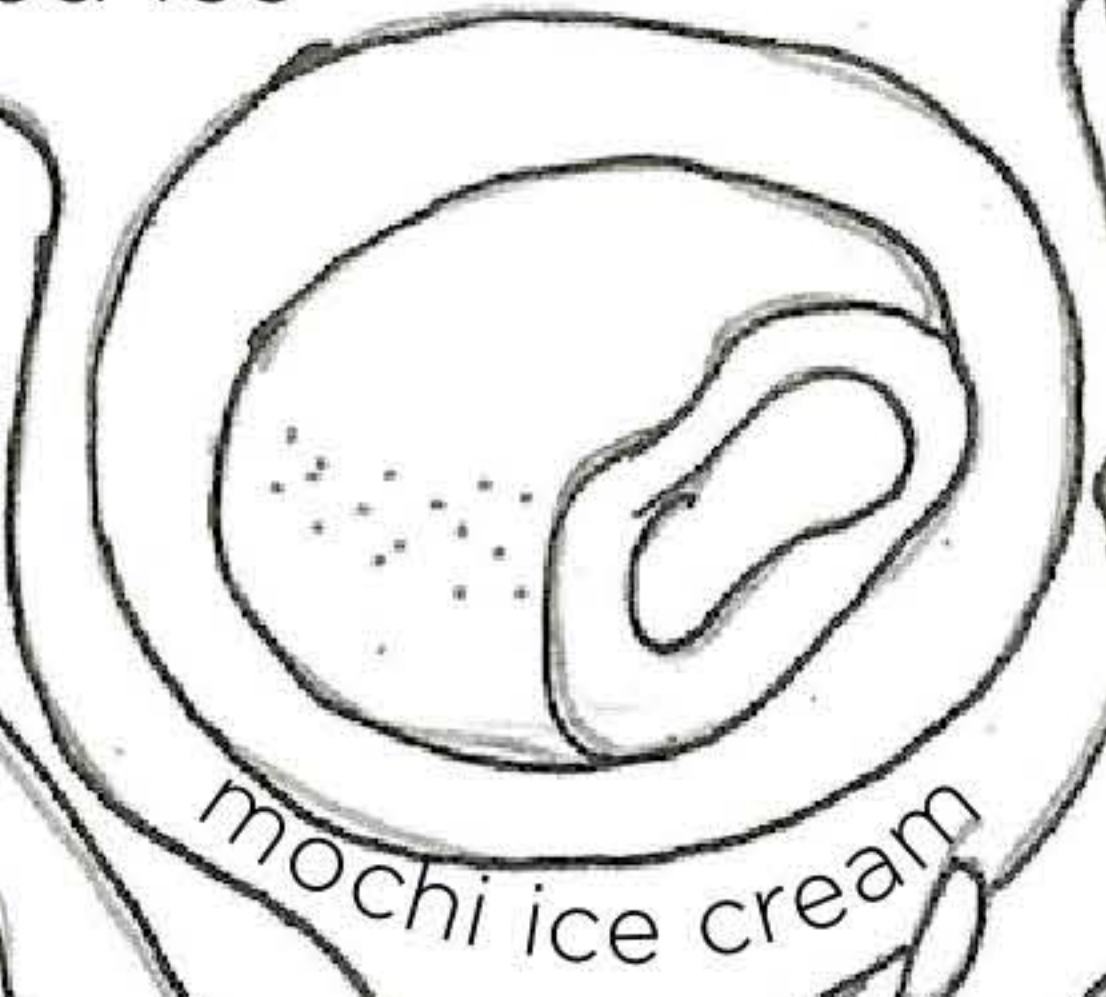

strawberry shaved ice

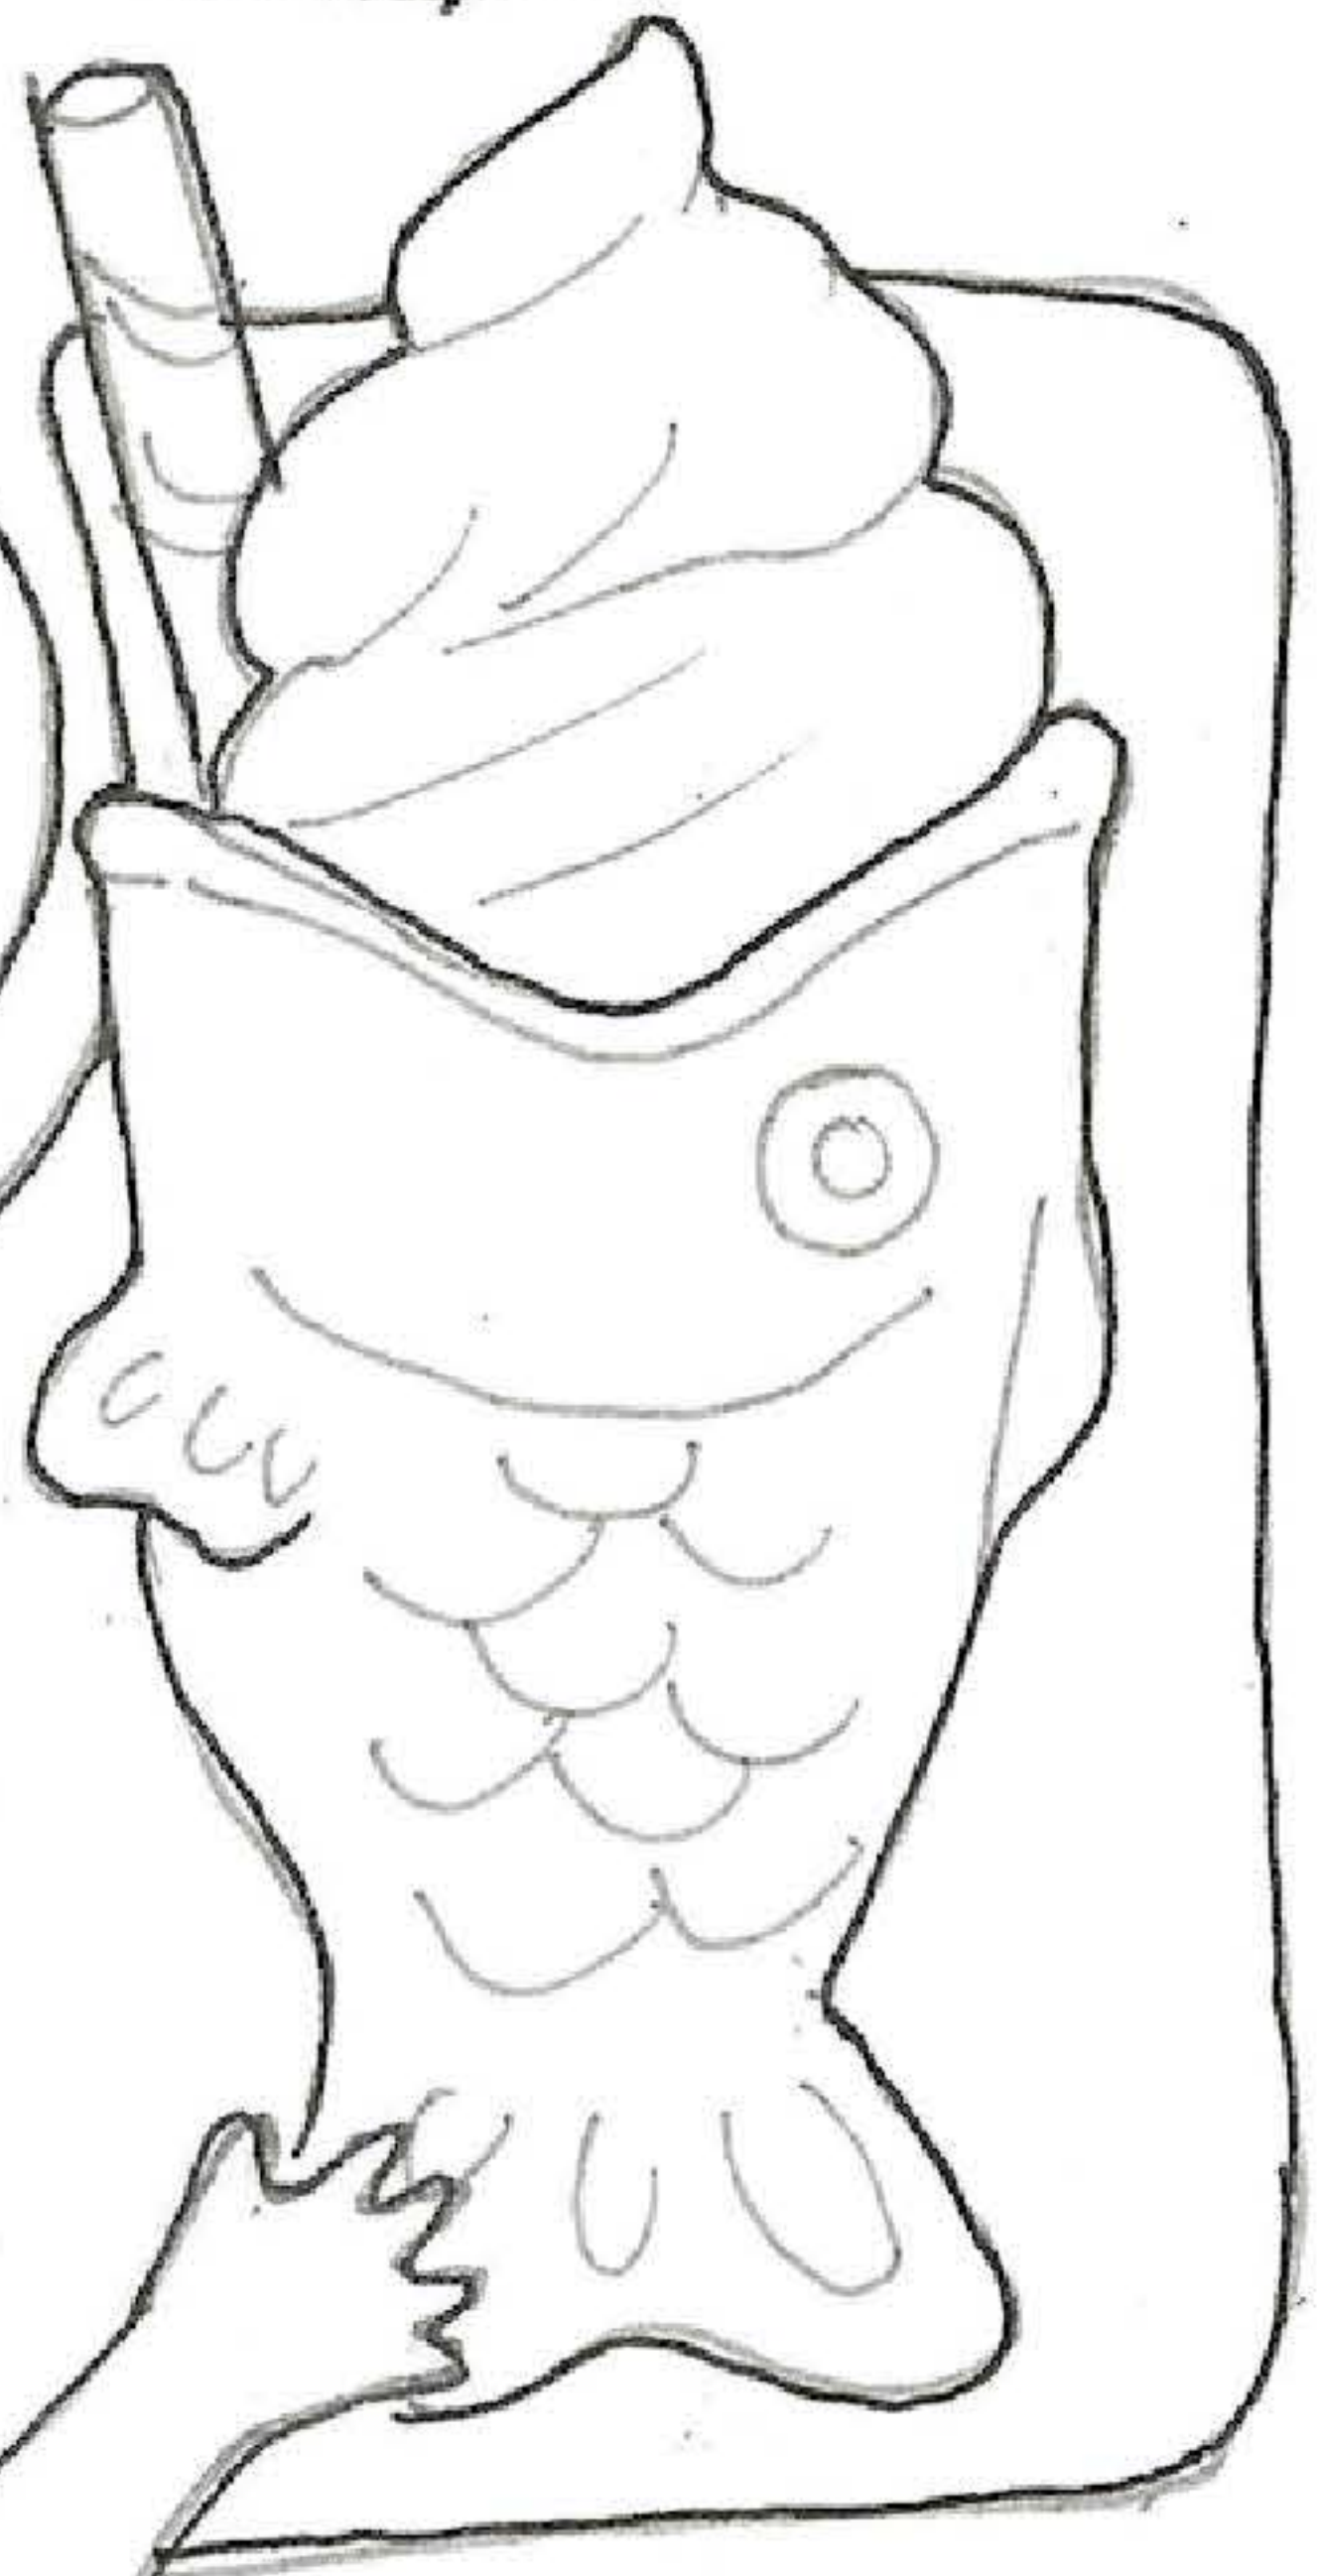

popsicles

mochi flavored
soft serve

mochi ice cream

green tea taiyaki
ice cream

What is your favorite
ice cream?

New Year Feast

Lunar New Year Fast Facts

ZODIAC 2024 is the year of the dragon!

HIDDEN FOODS New Year foods symbolize luck, wealth, and long life. Cross-cultural staples like sticky rice represent family togetherness, and a prosperous new year.

LUCKY MONEY Red envelopes aren't always red, or even envelopes. After bowing and paying respect to their elders, kids (and young single adults) receive new year's money in red envelopes, lucky Korean pouches, and in recent years, digitally.

THE BIG SWEEP Cleaning and sweeping away the bad luck of the last year helps families enjoy a fresh start.

LET'S MAKE SOME NOISE Filipinos celebrate with great festivity—making lots of noise to drive away evil spirits!

POLKA DOT SLEEPOVER Jilly Bing friends jumping on the bed... at midnight on New Year's to grow taller! And wearing polka dots for a prosperous new year, following Filipino customs.

NEW YEAR FEAST The friends are mixing Malaysian Yee Sang "Prosperity Toss" Salad by tossing fish and veggies in the air. The higher the toss, the greater the luck!

Follow us: @hellojillybing.com to learn more!*

Happy New Year

新年快乐

새해 복 많이 받으세요

Selamat tahun baru

Maligayang bagong taon

Chúc mừng năm mới

Contributing Artists:

Eejoon Choi @eejoonchoi

Rosalind Piedrasanta @rossisthatyou

Lisa Whitsitt @whitsittlisa

@hellojillybing
www.jillybing.com