

Frequently Asked Questions

and Answers:

Can I take Immune Power for prevention?

Building the immune system with Immune Power is a smart choice, especially during flu season, rather than waiting for a problem to occur and then treating it reactively. Immune Power can be taken as you prefer; daily, one or two weeks per month, or during flu season.

What's the difference between Immune Power and Colloidal Silver?

Both products work and are effective in different, yet complementary ways.

Immune Power has the added advantage of building the immune system. Colloidal Silver is the first choice when applied directly onto the affected area, as in eye, ear, nose for sinus infections, fungus, herpes, wounds, and similar ailments. Combine both for enhanced effectiveness.

General Instructions:

- At onset of a cold, infection or flu, whether already on Immune Power or not, follow short term dosage on bottle.
- Avoid large gaps between dosages, spread out evenly.
- Take Immune Power for at least 7-14 days.
- Once well, continue taking Immune Power for at least 2 additional days. Stopping prematurely allows the remaining germs to survive and multiply... we wouldn't want that!
- If symptoms return soon after discontinuing treatment, it is indicative that you still need to continue to further build up your immune system.
- For maximum results, add our highly effective Colloidal Silver as a companion.
