Pickleball Game Play

Basic Overview: Pickleball is played on a 44' x 20' court. The ball is served diagonally across the court (starting with the right-hand service square), and points can only be scored by the side that serves. Following the serve, players on each side must let the ball bounce once before volleys are allowed (double-bounce rule), and there is a seven-foot no-volley zone on each side of the net, to prevent "spiking." The server continues to serve, alternating service courts, until he or she faults. The first side scoring eleven points and leading by at least two points wins. Pickleball can be played with singles or doubles.

The Pickleball Serve: The server must keep both feet behind the base line when serving. The service is made underhand with the paddle contacting the ball below the waist. The Server must hit the ball in the air on the serve. The server is NOT allowed to bounce the ball and hit it off the bounce. The service is made diagonally cross court and must clear the non-volley zone, including the line marking the no-volley zone (A serve that hits the non-volley zone line is a fault). Only one serve attempt is allowed, except if the ball touches the net on the serve and lands in the proper service court, in this case the serve may be taken over. At the start of each new game, the 1st serving team is allowed only one fault before giving up the ball to the opponents. Thereafter both members of each team will serve and fault before the ball is turned over to the opposing team. When the receiving team wins the serve, the player in the right-hand court will always start play.

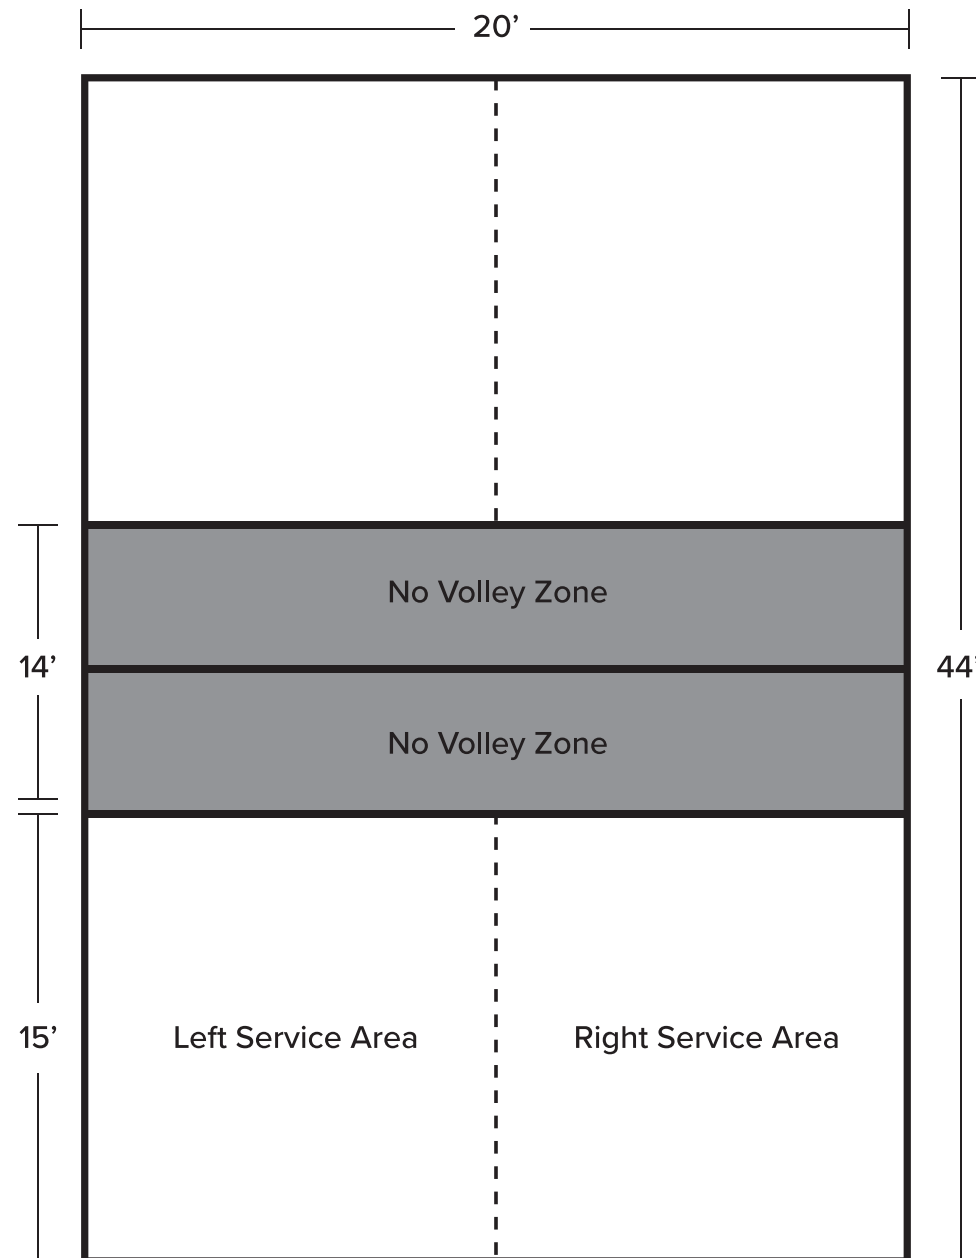

Volleys: To volley means to hit a ball in the air without first letting it bounce. In Pickleball, this can only be done when the player's feet are behind the non-volley zone line (seven feet behind the net). Note: It is a fault if the player steps over the line on his volley follow-through.

Double-Bounce Rule: Also called the Two Bounce Rule, each team must play their first shot off the bounce. That is, the receiving team must let the serve bounce and the serving team must let the return of the serve bounce before playing it. Once these two bounces have occurred, the ball can either be volleyed or played off the bounce.

Fault: A fault is committed when the ball:

- Touches any part of the non-volley zone on the serve (including the line)
- Is hit out of bounds
- Does not clear the net
- Is volleyed from the non-volley zone
- Is volleyed before a bounce has occurred on each side following a serve

Scoring: A team shall score a point only when serving. A player who is serving shall continue to do so until a fault is made by his/her team. If playing doubles, each player on a team shall keep serving until their team makes a fault, then the serve moves to the opposing team - this is called a Side Out. The game is played to 11 points, and you must win by 2 points.
