Custom manufacturing process

The steps

1

PRODUCT INQUIRY

With an initial custom product or collection inquiry, we will send a form to gather information about your concept and the market you intend to manufacture for. With this, we can gauge our abilities to produce.

2

DESIGN ROUNDS

JK Adams's internal design department will take information from the inquiry and translate this into detailed CAD drawings and renderings for the product. JK Adams provides two rounds of design at no cost to the customer.

3

CLIENT QUOTE

With completed designs in hand, our sales team will prepare a sales quote for your custom product based on the provided specifications. Quotes often include labeling, packaging, quantities, and expected delivery dates.

4

SAMPLING

Once a design has been approved by the client, JK Adams will provide samples for client approval. Samples will be as close to a production-ready product as possible. Samples take between two and three weeks to complete.

5

APPROVAL + SETUP

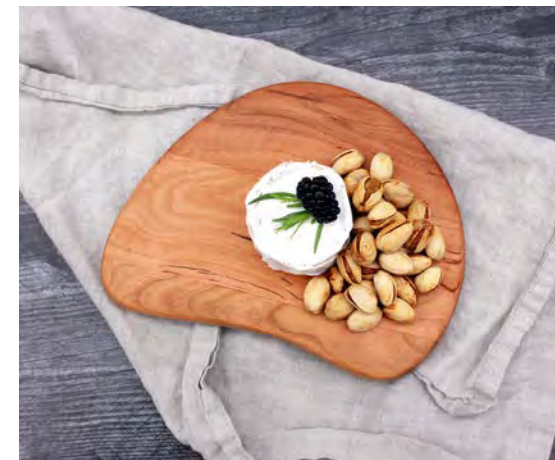

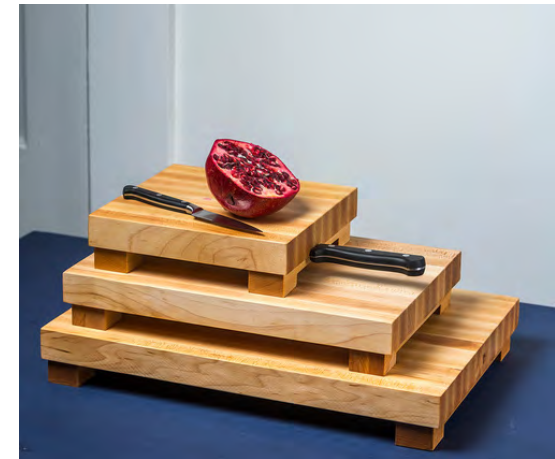

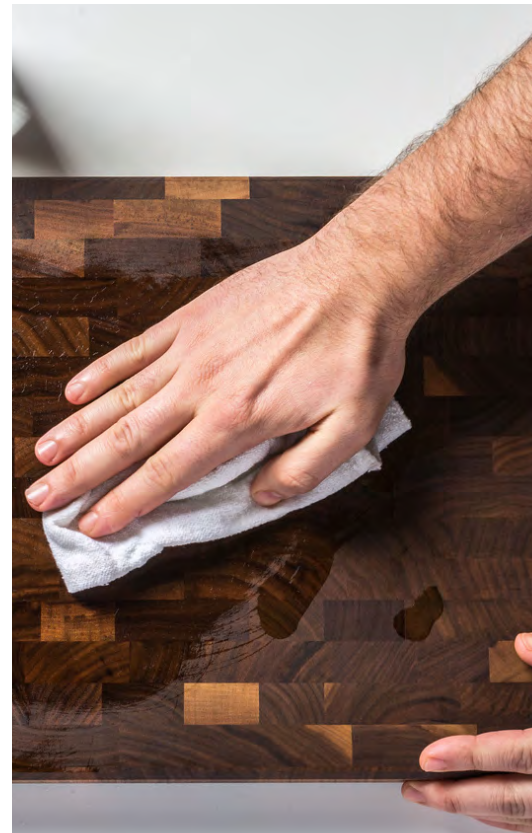

With an approved sample, we will ask for a PO to be issued. With a PO, your product goes through our commercialization process, and the drawings are readied for our team of craftsmen and women to run at production scale.
