Universal Suspension Arm lever

The suspension arm lever allows a greater amount of force to be applied to different jobs around the axle and steering area in a safe and easy way. The design allows the tool to be used in a multiple of different settings - both left and right

Make sure the hook and the end of the lever are in contact with the suspension arm and NOT the subframe

To see this, and many other SP products in operation have a look at our online videos at www.sykes-pickavant.com
