

My Little Office is a home office that takes the language of our childhood and adolescence because it makes reference to the cork boards on which we attached drawings, photos and posters. This reference is adapted to the contemporary and to the adult age with the blackboard that is enriched and completed by the addition of a work surface in lacquered MDF which makes possible to support everything necessary to carry out our activities. Designed to exploit spaces effectively and efficiently, My Little Office becomes a desk that allows other uses of the environment in a gesture, quickly and safely, by closing the top towards the blackboard with a system made of brushed bronze hinges. The importance of the Made in Italy factor can be seen, among the many details, also from the bevel – strictly handmade – of the corners of the cork that covers the wooden structure of the blackboard.

* For the blackboard it is possible to choose a different cork color than the natural one (within a selected range) as well as the top. The hinge, on the other hand, can be lacquered in the desired shade instead of being in brushed bronze.
