Carla's passion and organic evolution into professional interior design began during her childhood, spending summers in Miami and Palm Beach with her Cuban parents and extended family. Carla draws much of her inspiration from her Cuban heritage, her mother's incredible sense of style and attention to detail, and the summer memories of the aqua blue water and tropical hues accented by various shades of sunlight.

In building her own Dallas homes and vacation residences, Carla discovered her knack for converting the imagined into reality. Carla's natural and eye for beauty, keen organizational skills, resourcefulness, efficiencies, and ability to communicate in a genuine and likeable way, lead to early success and a desire to pursue interior design professionally. Named for the estate where Carla's mother and her family resided after being exiled from Cuba, Dunbar Road Design has quickly garnered local and regional accolades from Palm Beach, across Texas, to southern California.

"I never like to put myself in a box or limit myself to one design approach. I love so many different techniques and periods. By constantly exploring new design elements to compliment various architectural styles, I can create any client's dream home, without limitations." - Carla Fonts Hirncir
