

Precaution !!

During Transportation, the machine may have been placed on its side or upside down resulting in the refrigerant and oil separating from the compressor. To avoid damage, place upright for 24 hours before turning the power on.