

BIOGRAPHY

Denyse Nadon, M.Ed.

Denyse Nadon is the Founder/COO for Tribalure Canada Inc., an Indigenous online cosmetics and skincare company. She currently resides in Carleton Place, Ontario. Denyse is of Algonquin descent and is a member of the Apitipi Anicinapek Nation in Matheson, Ontario. Her Indigenous name is: 'Screeching Owl Woman'.

For the past twenty years, she has been the owner/operator of Bear Vision, an Indigenous consulting and training company specializing in economic development, community development and skills training, predominantly in the mining industry. She is currently on the negotiation team for Apitipi Anicinapek Nation.

Denyse obtained her Masters of Education from Yorkville University in Ontario and is known for her expertise in adult education, negotiation and relationship building. She is currently pursuing her Doctorate of Education through Athabasca University.

Denyse has served as the Executive Director for the Native Women's Association of NWT as well as served on various boards.

Denyse believes that people are the most valuable resource and through unlearning what we think we know, will help us live our lives as it was originally intended. As an Indigenous woman, she firmly believes that it our responsibility to nurture our people back so that we can rightfully embrace our roles within our families and Nations.

Beauty Tip: If we want change, we have to be the change.

www.tribalure.com

Email: denyse@tribalure.com