Winemaker's notes

Similar to our approach with Fiano, we think that Vermentino can be most expressive when we interfere as little as possible in the cellar. Native fermentation proceeds slowly in small stainless steel barrels, preserving bright aromatic fruit notes typical of this variety grown in warm climates.

Tasting notes

Fresh and expressive grapefruit, jasmine flower, and herbal aromas interweave with flavors of lemon-lime zest and pineapple. Lingering fruit coats the palate with a long, delicately spiced finish.
