- ABOUT US -

We are very serious about making people happy through our food.

We're particularly proud to be working with so many small, local, artisan food producers who are behind much of what we sell through our restaurant. From our local bee keepers and meat curers to cheese makers and our free range chicken and egg farmer who supplies us exclusively.

Our ethos of simple, wholesome, delicious and unpretentious, flavour filled food will always remain the core from which all our creativity flows.
