

Sight Word Santa

To Prepare: Duplicate and cut apart the Sight Word Santas and the present. Mix up the Santa cards.

To Play: Have your students make a circle, all sitting on the floor. Once seated, scatter all of the Santa's on the floor. Have the children hide their eyes while you hide the picture of the present underneath one of the Santa's. Ask them to lift their heads up when you are done hiding the present.

Then have the children chant, "Santa, Santa! Ho, ho, ho! Santa, Santa, where did it go?" Chose one child to tell you the sight word Santa that he or she thinks the present is hidden under. Once he or she says the word, that person may lift up that card. If the present is hidden under there, then that child is the winner of that round. If not, then another child gets a turn to guess. Play continues in this fashion until the present is found. If you wish, you may let the child that finds the Santa be the next one to hide him. However, be aware that this likely means that every single child in the class will want a chance to hide the present, so in a whole group situation, this may not be advisable because the game would be too long. Have fun!
