

Title: Harmonious Design

Here at Pebbly, we believe it's the little things that make a big difference. It all started when our founders took a surfing trip to a pebble beach, located in a small village in France. Nicolas and Amy are a couple of entrepreneurs who are passionate about nature, surfing, and protecting the oceans. They challenged themselves to create a sustainability movement and find an easy way for people to make a difference, right in their own kitchens. This idea was our little ripple, that caused a big wave – and Pebbly was born. Pebbly allows them to create their own designs using natural materials, while encouraging zero-waste solutions all inspired by nature. Our mission is to inspire new rituals for a natural, positive, and responsible daily life. Pebbly is more than a collection of sustainable cooking essentials; It's a lifestyle. And a choice.

Your personal well-being is our concern. That's why we design each of our sustainable kitchen essentials to be as aesthetically pleasing and functional as they are purposeful. Pebbly is our way of inspiring small changes that can start right in your kitchen, to make you feel good about doing good. With Pebbly, you can do something good for an entire planet of people every day just by making a few simple swaps. Bring some of this positive energy into your kitchen – that's what we call good kitchen karma. Combining a minimalistic French design with sustainable and responsibly sourced materials, Pebbly creates essentials that serve a higher purpose. Whether you're exploring the world of composting, fighting waste-reduction, or simply trying to organize your kitchen, Pebbly has something beautiful and eco-friendly for all!
