From ancient, dry-farmed vines in Rancho Cucamonga, 42 miles east of Los Angeles. These own-rooted vines were planted in sand in 1919, in a head-trained style befitting wizards. Tall wizards. The vineyard has been farmed organically since day dot, and was once 965 acres. Today, only 5 acres remain, and we are so very honoured to be one of the lucky recipients..

100% de-stemmed, with gentle daily hand-pigeage throughout the 9 day native fermentation. Élevage was for 11 months in neutral barrique and puncheon.

Tasting notes: pink peppercorn, grandfather sage, rhubarb and jatamansi abound, in the proudest shade of ruby.
