Prepare for tests

The way you prepare for tests has a great deal to do with how well you do on them.

Think about the last time you prepared for a test.

1. When did you study for the test? (Check all that apply.)

- | | |
|--|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> over several weeks | <input type="checkbox"/> right before the test |
| <input type="checkbox"/> over several nights | <input type="checkbox"/> all of the above |
| <input type="checkbox"/> the night before | <input type="checkbox"/> none of the above |

2. What study techniques did you use? (Check all that apply.)

- | | |
|---|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> reviewed class notes | <input type="checkbox"/> studied with someone else |
| <input type="checkbox"/> went over the textbook | <input type="checkbox"/> had another person quiz me |
| <input type="checkbox"/> made flashcards | <input type="checkbox"/> I didn't study |
| <input type="checkbox"/> something else: _____ | |

3. How did you do on the test?

4. How can you better prepare for future tests?

Test preparation tip – Engage your senses

To make your study time more effective and interesting, use study strategies that use multiple senses (seeing, hearing, and touch). Use color in your notes, create charts, read information out loud, and act out ideas.

How might you better engage your senses to study in the future?

Types of tests

Different types of test questions require different strategies. See if you can answer the following questions on test-taking strategies correctly.

Multiple Choice

1. When answering multiple-choice questions, it's best to
 - a. try to come up with the answer in your head before you look at the answer choices.
 - b. choose c if you don't know the answer.
 - c. if you're not sure of the answer, cross out the choices you know are wrong and make an educated guess.
 - d. both a and c.
2. If you get stuck on a question or problem
 - a. keep working until you figure it out.
 - b. skip it.
 - c. mark it and come back to it.
 - d. choose c.
3. When answering essay questions, it's best to start with
 - a. the easiest question.
 - b. the hardest question.
 - c. the first question.
 - d. any question; it doesn't matter which one you start with.
4. When answering a math problem, you should
 - a. not worry about showing your work.
 - b. spend as much time as you need on each problem.
 - c. estimate the answer before beginning the problem.
 - d. all of the above

Types of tests

True/False

5. True/false questions with absolute words like all, always, never, every, and none are usually true. TRUE FALSE
6. True/false questions with words like usually, often, and sometimes are typically true. TRUE FALSE
7. If any part of a true/false question is false, the whole statement is false. TRUE FALSE
8. If you don't watch out for statements with double negatives, you won't get the right answers. TRUE FALSE

Open Book

9. For open book tests

- a. write down all the information you know you'll need on one sheet.
- b. put self-stick notes in your textbook to help you locate information.
- c. highlight your notes.
- d. all of the above

Test-Taking Tips

- ▶ As soon as you get your test, write memory clues and anything else you want to remember at the top.
- ▶ Look over the test and make a plan. This will ensure that you don't run out of time.
- ▶ Don't spend too much time on any question or problem. Mark it and come back to it later.
- ▶ Check your answers and use all of the time you're given.

Test anxiety

A little anxiety before a test improves your concentration. Too much worry, or test anxiety, can lower your test scores. Having test anxiety is like not having the password to your computer. The information is there—you just can't get to it.

On a scale of 1–10, rate your test anxiety.

1 ⋯ 2 ⋯ 3 ⋯ 4 ⋯ 5 ⋯ 6 ⋯ 7 ⋯ 8 ⋯ 9 ⋯ 10

I get so nervous before a test I feel sick.

I feel calm and confident before tests.

If you circled 1–7, the following tips may help you reduce test anxiety.

- ▶ Start studying early. Cramming only increases test anxiety.
- ▶ Replace negative thinking with thoughts that are positive.
- ▶ Mentally practice going through the test and receiving the grade you want.
- ▶ Walk into the test with your head up and your shoulders back. Tell yourself that you're ready, and that you're going to do fine.
- ▶ Try these relaxation techniques:
 1. Take a deep breath. Then slowly release your breath, along with any tension. Do this until you feel your body relax.
 2. Starting at the top of your head, flex and then relax each part of your body.
 3. Think of a place where you feel relaxed and calm. Close your eyes and visualize being there.

What can you do to reduce test anxiety and feel more confident?

Improve your test-taking skills

Prepare as you go.

If you pay attention in class, take good notes, and do your homework, studying for tests will take less time and effort—and your grades will be higher.

What can you do to better prepare for tests?

Have good class notes.

Since most test questions come from material that's been presented in class, your class notes are your most valuable test-prep resource. Class notes that are complete, neat, and organized make preparing for tests much easier.

What can you do to improve your class notes?

Prep your mind and body.

Get plenty of sleep the night before a test and get up early enough to eat a good breakfast. Also, visualize success. Imagine yourself confidently taking the test and answering the questions correctly.
