- The indicator light should blink continuously while charging and should stop flashing after the battery is fully charged.
- To avoid incidents, please ensure that the wire is not tangled before charging.
- The device does not work during charging. If any irregularities occur, stop using the device immediately, turn it off, and consult with a customer service representative to provide after-sales service.
- If the device is not used frequently, we recommend charging it at least once every three months to prevent battery discharge from affecting its normal usage.
- Low Power Alert: When the battery level drops to 5%, the white LED indicator light will flash continuously for 5 times. After that, the device will automatically power off.
