Care Instructions

Washing Your Curls

- · Section hair before shampooing
- After cleansing your extensions with a moisturizing shampoo; add a moisturizing conditioner and detangle hair with a Denman or paddle brush
- Rinse hair and apply desired leave-in products
- Allow curls to fully dry (blow-dryer, hooded dryer, or air drying) before proceeding with your day/night

Maintenance

 Between washes, spritz the hair with water until slightly damp and distribute your leaves-in conditioner with a Denman Brush

Storing Your Curls:

- Wigs: Getting a wig mannequin and stand is the best way to store your unit and it provides a perfect place to style your wigs. The mannequin head insures the least amount of tangles since the unit is properly sitting up instead of in a bag
- Clip-Ins or Bundles: You can reuse the satin bags you were given at shipping! Gently slide hair into bags when you are done wearing them. DO NOT place hair in bags while hair is wet.

- Shampoo & condition the hair once a week. Waiting longer than a week might cause more tangles resulting in more shedding
- Always GENTLY comb through the hair while the conditioner is in it. Start from the bottom and work your way to the top using a paddle brush or by finger detangling. To prevent excess shedding, only detangle on wash day.
- After washing you can apply curl cream or leave-in conditioner to help define the curls.
 If you want more definition you can apply a gentle gel that will not dry out the hair.
 TIP: We have found that the best way to apply your product is by using the "Shingling Method"
- Don't comb through your curls once they have dried, this will result in frizz and loss of curl definition. It may also lead to extra shedding
- Sleeping in a pineapple or twisting hair in large sections before covering the hair with a satin bonnet or scarf is the best way to keep your curls fluffy and frizz-free
- Longer lengths require extra care and are more prone to shedding
- Avoid salt water and excessive product build-up
