How inviting

Come to the party! Moo's personalised invitations will give that extra special touch for your child's christening, birthday or special announcement. The designs are as vast as the imagination and are complemented with adorable envelope sticker seals and matching thank you cards.

Season favourite

With Ivy Design's new season collection designed around the theme of Garden Tea Party, who can resist giving a present "just because" to the special little person in their life. Our favourites are the cuter-than-cute summer tunics and knickerbockers. Sweet!

Prints charming

Forget baby rombers, bibs and nappies, we've found a gift that every mum-to-be will want to have on her baby shower gift list. Belly Art's Baby Inkless Print Kit uses a clear ink to capture baby's tiny foot or handprints which can be used as a keepsake in the baby book and even digitally scanned to create personalised thank you cards and birth announcements.

Sort it out

Every new mum needs one of these: a specially designed handbag organiser which transforms any handbag into the ultimate nappy bag. Saying 'hello' to baby doesn't have to mean 'goodbye' to your favourite designer handbag. Hooray to that!

Nice change

We've all been there – holding the wipes container, nappy and disposable bags, not to mention the baby. Save yourself (or someone else) from the challenge of changing baby on the go with this nifty little baby box. B.box ($34.95) is a take everywhere change system in a box, containing wipes, change mat, nappy storage and disposal bags.

Leader of the pack

Leading the pack of new products at ovestonline.com.au this summer are Emilie Sloan's new vintage style oil-cloth bags. Direct from the USA, these stunningly eclectic stain and leak-proof bags are perfect for the thrills and spills of any mum's life.
