Drawing inspiration from Homer's Odyssey (Argos is Ulysses' dog and the first to recognise him when he comes back to Ithaca after more than twenty years), Paola Navone dreamt up a collection which lovingly awaits our return home ready to welcome us, soothe us and give us warmth.

features

by Paola Navone

Available as a 2- or 3-seater, or in the swivel-base armchair version.

The softness of its shape is accentuated by two gigantic clips sinking into and grasping the backrest – traversing it to shoulder height – and culminating in a bow detail at the back with a pop/glam vibe.

Padding

Mixture of premier-quality fillings: certified polyurethane, 4 cm of Memory Foam and Climalight - a special filling that reproduces all the fluffiness and supreme comfort of down.

Coverings

Available with a leather or fabric covering, or with the BYBORRE covering designed by the Dutch textile-innovation studio BYBORRE, using a yarn that combines premium-quality wool and PES.

Concealed feet
in scratchproof metal.

Argo reclining chaise-longue for sleeping shown in Premium fabric.

The chaise-longue with a recliner mechanism has an ideal position for every occasion and for each single moment in time.

The decorative martingale at the back of the sofa makes it the ideal centrepiece for a room where it is bound to play a starring role during gatherings of family and friends.

Paola Navone was born in Turin, Italy. She studied architecture and after moved to Milan to start her life as architect, designer, art director, interior designer, curator of exhibitions and events. In the year of 1983, she won the prestigious Osaka International Design Award and in 2000 she was nominated Designer of the Year by the German magazine Architektur & Wohnen.
