Outside

Trusted gear for you to thrive outside

Since 1981, Outdoor Research has created trusted apparel, accessories, and equipment for you to thrive outside. Our award-winning outdoor gear is meticulously researched and tested for outdoor enthusiasts and military users around the globe. Grounded in our values of curiosity, passion, innovation, collaboration, and community, we strive to create space for all in the outdoors. We celebrate wins outside at every level together with our ambassadors, non-profit partners, and employees.

Creating Space for All in the Outdoors

Our Commitment to Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

At Outdoor Research, we make trusted gear designed to get people outdoors. And we believe that the more people who get outside, the better we, and the world, will be. It's only with each other that we've made it this far, and it's only by inviting new partners into the fold that we will grow and progress as a brand, as people, and as a force for greater equality and justice in the world. If you believe that the outdoors is better when shared by all, join us in the journey.

Climate Action Corps

Outdoor Research is a proud founding member of the Outdoor Industry Association (OIA) Climate Action Corps. Together with the OIA, we're making changes that aim to make the outdoor industry the world's first climate positive industry by 2030.

Climate Work

Outdoor Research is calculating our carbon footprint to begin looking at which reductions will make the greatest impact on our business, and the greatest positive impact on the climate. We've completed the GHG (Greenhouse Gas) calculation for our base year (2021) and will be continuing to calculate annually to track progress towards GHG reductions. We are working towards setting science-based targets to address GHG emissions reduction in line with what the latest climate science says is necessary to meet the goals of the Paris Agreement.

Renewable Energy

Since 2021, Outdoor Research is committing to 100% renewable energy for all of our North American operations. Our purchase of RECs is renewable electricity from a low- or zero-emissions resource which reduces the emissions associated with our electricity use from our owned and controlled operations by 80% and supports renewable electricity development.

bluesign® System Partnership

bluesign® is a system that provides safer and more sustainable environments for people to work in and everyone to live in. Powered by a holistic approach, bluesign traces each textile's path along the manufacturing process, making improvements at every stage from factory floor to finished product. In 2021, more than 50% of Outdoor Research fabric is bluesign approved, with the goal to increase each year.

Recycled Content

Each of our products made with recycled content has the same quality as seen in other Outdoor Research gear, but with less impact on the planet. When you buy gear that's made with recycled content, you're reducing waste, energy usage, and dependence on petroleum.

Responsible Down Standard (RDS)

100% of our down products comply with the Responsible Down Standard. This standard safeguards the welfare of fowl that provide down and feathers for the puffy products we all love. When you shop Outdoor Research down insulation, you're ensuring the safety, comfort, and fair treatment of these animals.

Supplier Code of Conduct

Partners throughout our supply chain - like finished goods factories and material input mills - follow a set of guidelines that help us ensure socially responsible operations. This Code of Conduct from the Outdoor Industry Association helps us be clear about our goals as they relate to the safety and wellbeing of workplace employees, as well as the appropriate and safe storage, use, and disposal of chemicals.
