PREFACE.

The cordial reception with which former publications by the compiler of this volume were received by the public of Yarmouth, has led to the preparation of the present work. As the books alluded to, viz.: "RECORD OF THE SHIPPING OF YARMOUTH," and "APPENDIX" to the same, referred solely to the marine enterprises of Yarmouth, it was thought that a treatment of other subjects of local historical interest along the same lines would meet with similar approval.

Every community enjoying a healthy and vigorous growth naturally cherishes an abiding interest in the persons and events connected with its past, and contemporary with the foundations of its prosperity. Yarmouth, it is pleasing to state, is not exceptional in this regard. Possibly owing to its early comparatively isolated situation—at a distance from the great centres of population and commerce—this feeling of interest in its own history has been somewhat more intense than in many other communities. It is peculiarly true of Yarmouth that the community has grown up and progressed in an independent and self-contained spirit, revolving, as it were, about its own centre—social, commercial and political. Hence it is believed that these reminiscences and memorials of many events and scenes of by-gone times, in which the names of the ancestors and relatives of the present generation of Yarmouthians are found, will meet with the heartiest sympathy from those still actively engaged in advancing the interests and carrying on the affairs of Yarmouth town and county.

From the very necessity of situation, the principal resources for information are the Yarmouth newspapers published since 1831. The details contained in the present volume, therefore, do not, with but few exceptions, comprise any record of circumstances previous to that year. Since that time the fund upon which draughts of information may be drawn for the delectation of the present residents of Yarmouth and their friends abroad has been large, and the principal difficulty of the compiler has been to make his excerpts both judicious and exhaustive, without being tedious or irrelevant to a genuine history of the place.

This book does not aspire to the status of an historical work, but rather to that of a correct and interesting reference volume. The Index, it is hoped, will enable the reader to readily refer to any important event in Yarmouth's history since its journalism began.

Although the labor of preparing these pages has been considerable, yet it has not been without its pleasing aspects. Many forgotten circumstances have been recalled to memory. Yarmouth's past, and the many worthy citizens identified with it, have seemed to live again in the present. If the reader shall derive any portion of this satisfaction in the perusal of the book, and thereby be led to feel a new interest in "the olden times," the compiler will be amply rewarded.

DISASTERS TO YARMOUTH SHIPPING.

BRIG CORA, Charles W. Carty master, from Yarmouth for Bridgewater, N. S., in ballast, was wrecked at Little Hope Island on the 6th July. Crew saved. Owned by the master and others. Vessel, 233 tons, launched in 1879, and insured for $5000 in the Commercial and $1500 elsewhere.

SCHOONER TWILIGHT, Lemuel Hines master, of and for Yarmouth, from the Banks, with a full cargo of fish, struck on Shag rock, off Cranberry Island, near Canso, on the night of the 11th September, and sank. As soon as the vessel struck a dory was launched and Capt. Hines and William Berringer, of Canso, jumped into it. The dory was swept by a sea, killing the two men instantly. The remainder of the crew succeeded in reaching a partially dry reef, where they held on till rescued by the schooner Georgie Harold, of Barrington, next morning. Capt. Hines left a widow and one child. The Twilight was launched in 1874, was 58 tons register, and was owned by A. F. Stoneman & Co. Vessel insured for $1500 in the Commercial and $500 in Halifax. Cargo and outfits insured for $1600 in Commercial. The bodies of the two men were found a few days later.

Andrew Pius Porter, mate of brig Boston Marine, fell overboard from that vessel on the 16th August, and was drowned. He was a son of Anselm O. Porter, of Tusket Wedge.

William A. Cain, master of bark Eliza Everitt, died on that vessel, which arrived at Montevideo on the 5th December. He was a son-in-law of William Caskey, and left a widow and six children.

SHIP CYPRUS, Asa Walker master, from Calcutta, January 29th, for New York, was abandoned on the 17th April, in lat. 12 S., long. 12 W., in a sinking condition. Crew saved and landed at Falmouth on the 9th June. Her cargo consisted of saltpetre, catch, linseed, jute, jute butts, gunny bags, buffalo hides, castor seed, etc. The Cyprus was 1392 tons register, was launched in 1878, and was owned by Cereno J. Kelley, Israel L. Walker, Spinney, Eakins & Co., Dr. E. K. Kelley, the estate Dr. J. L. R. Webster, C. E. McKinnon and others. Insured $5000 in the Commercial and $15,000 on the hull and freight with Mr. Job Hatfield. There was also some insurance on the vessel in Halifax.

Between 3 and 4 a. m. on January 14th the barn of G. J. Goudey, situated in rear of the street leading between Queen's Row and the residence of Gilbert Sanderson, was burned to the ground, with 10 tons of hay and farming implements. The incendiary had driven out two cows before igniting the hay in the mow. The building was a mass of fire before being discovered. No insurance.

A small, unoccupied smithy, situated near the site of the old block house, was destroyed by fire about midnight on January 20th. Incendiary.

The new No. 3 engine house was set on fire about midnight, January 31st, and considerably damaged. The engine was removed before being injured. Incendiary. A reward of £85 by Reliance No. 3 Company, and another of £50 by the Municipality were offered for the conviction of the incendiary of either of the six last named fires.

The house of Joseph Berry, (colored) on Small Gains road, was destroyed by fire on the morning of the 2d February, originating from a defective flue. All the contents were burned. No insurance.

About 11.30 o'clock on the night of March 3d an incendiary attempt was made to burn the building known as the "old stand," owned by Mrs. Hardy, unoccupied, opposite Moody's corner, (building lately occupied by S. Lewis & Co.) A bag filled with combustibles, placed under the northwest corner and ignited, was discovered before being burned. A young man was arrested, lodged in jail, but broke out and escaped.

Suttie's foundry was discovered to be on fire at 6 o'clock on the morning of May 5th, but the flames were extinguished without much damage being done.

An unsuccessful attempt to burn the dwelling house of Daniel Gardner, Huston street, was made on the night of May 12th. A bag of combustibles was found against the end of the porch, having been placed there and ignited by some miscreant. It was discovered by the inmates and removed before any damage was done.

The barn of John Purney was burned to the ground, together with its contents, early on the morning of the 19th May. Loss £60 or £70. Mr. Purney's house caught fire several times, but was saved through the exertions of the neighbors, including the ladies.

Suttie's iron foundry, situated on the corner of Brown and Hawthorn streets, was burned to the ground between 2 and 3 o'clock on the morning of the 22d June. The flames were discovered bursting
