Comoli x Graphpaper Free and easy

Keijiro Kamori's Tokyo-based menswear label Comoli has created comfortable loose-fitting clothing since 2011. Its casual navy jacket-and-trouser ensemble for Graphpaper, the Tokyo shop and art gallery established by Takayuki Minami in 2015, is designed for the Japanese climate and inspired by the classic US style that surged in Japan in the 1960s. The brand's other signature styles include hemmed trousers, oversized jackets and cardigans. — MSS

Lacusa What women want

LA-based womenswear brand Lacusa's first shop is on Sunset Boulevard in Silverlake. Established by Rebecca Grenell (pictured above, on left) in 2013, Lacusa is a brand that does comfy shirtdresses, T-shirts and slipdresses, all stocked in the bright space alongside other homegrown brands. A comfortable fit with Silverlake's already-thriving retail community. — TM
