

BOMBAY COLLECTION

Each rug in the Bombay Collection has unique qualities and is truly one of a kind. The hand braided jute is woven in an ancient fashion which is prone to bowing and skewing. This creates an inconsistency in the linear braids and wrapped sisal fibers. The jute and sisal fibers provide interesting dimension and a strong textural rug.

Natural jute fibers are generously woven in and may sprout where short ends are tied and tucked during the weaving process. Husks of the jute plant, which are coarse and darker in color, may be found within the weave. This nearly 1/2" thick material may inhibit movement of nearby doors. Variations in color are common to all natural fibers Seaming natural fiber carpet or rugs can be visible. Bombay is not recommended for seaming. All seams are made at the discretion of the purchaser.

Handle with care when installing. Jute braid rugs may stretch when pulled, causing the finished rug size to vary.

These natural characteristics of Bombay are embraced and even cherished as they undoubtedly display the hand crafted nature of every floor covering.

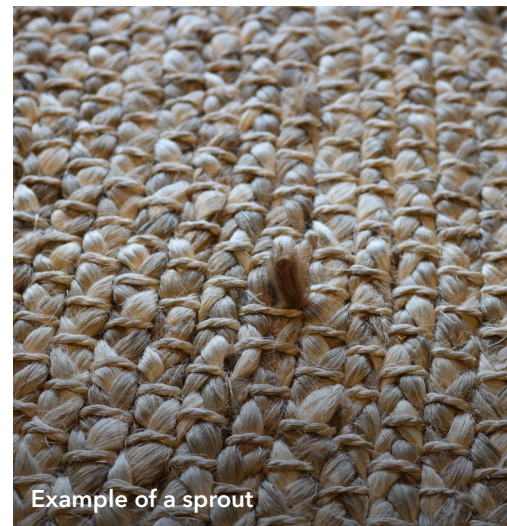

Luna Pearl with coordinating Jute Chenille border

Close up to show detail

Bowing/skewing

Example of a sprout

Example of a husk