

Mitered Corners

Hand-sewn mitered corners are created by a combination of machine and hand-craftsmanship, resulting in a refined rug border with invisible stitching. The meticulous process of hand-sewn corners is valued for its artistry and tailored finish. Mitered corners meet at a 45 degree angle for a designer finish much like a picture frame. For all borders showing 2" or more on the face of the rug a layer of padding is applied between the binding and rug material to eliminate telegraphing for a smooth, flawless border. The quality of craftsmanship in hand-sewn mitered corners is undeniable and not commonly found in the marketplace. Fibreworks hand-sewn mitered corners elevates our custom rug borders and redefines luxury.
