At DSG, we're proud to call California home, but we also know that safety and environmental compliance are global concerns. That's why our team of safety professionals are dedicated to helping clients across North America, South America, the United Kingdom, and Africa. No matter where you are, we'll work with you to find the Definitive solution to your compliance challenges.

About Us

Definitive Safety Group specializes in field work consulting services, including Public & Environmental Health, OSHA, RCRA, HAZWOPER, Emergency & Disaster Response, as well as sustainability services, carbon emissions, GHG, energy, and electricity reporting.

The Company offers regulatory compliance training services, presenting a convenient solution to obtain certification. Our digital platform serves as a hub for industry-specific training to help fulfill career goals. We provide custom and open enrollment options for all training services, engaging users with high-quality, original, and current content. Our e-learning platform fosters a prestigious learning experience, with instructors who grow with students to set the standard in the safety industry.

Core Services Provided

Open Enrollment Training classes are currently available through our Shopify web e-learning apps, with the certification exam administered in-person. These courses are designed to meet mandated training requirements and provide a convenient option for supplemental training needs, including for new hires and employees who miss scheduled training due to illness.

Custom Training offers your company the flexibility to train when it's convenient for your business, including early mornings, weekends, or during your off-season. Our hands-on, real-world scenarios can be conducted at your work-site and tailored to your SOPs and safety programs, reinforcing your safety culture.

EHS Consulting services help identify areas where your health and safety program may be falling short. Our registered and licensed employees provide guidance and assist in making a plan for improvement, ensuring compliance with regulations. We offer our services to help you get started and maintain compliance with safety and environmental regulations.

What makes us Unique

We are trusted safety professionals, and believe in hiring only knowledgeable and experienced professionals who have the skills required for each specific discipline.

Our allegiance to our clients is manifested through enduring partnerships, recurring engagements, and recommendations, attesting to our accountability and reliability.

We offer affordable packages that have a proven track record of demonstrating that regulatory compliance does not have to break the bank.
